SEAPORTS CAPTURED.

Victory for Bulgars and Turks.

Desperate Battle Between the Russo-Rumanians and the Germanics.

Teutons Forced Back from Dobrudja—Little Fighting in the West.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Rumania now is the scene of a great battle between Russo - Rumanian and armies of the central powers. Eastern Rumania has become a fighting ground and the opposing armies are engaged from the Black Sea to the Danube, along a front of about seventy miles.

Bulgarian and Turkish troops have captured Baltjik and two other seaports, and the fortress of Silistria or Bazardjik has been taken. The armies of the central powers have not yet crossed the Danube.

Rumanians continue their offensive in Eastern Transylvania and have occupied Gorsova, on the Danube. Advancing from Calimanesti, in Transylvania, the Rumanians are driving westward and Berlin admits the withdrawal of German forces before attacks in the Vargitta.

The Russians on the northern end of the line near Riga have begun a counter-attacking and have crossed the Aa river north of Dvinsk. Repeated attacks by the Germans to dislodge them failed, Petrograd declares.

The Austro-Germans are fighting desperately to hold back the Russians advancing on Halicz. Petrograd says the Austro-German forces have fallen back to the western bank of the Dniester, while Vienna asserts that all of the central powers are holding their own. Russian attacks against German positions on the Lipa, southeast of Brzezany, have been very heavy losses, Berlin reports.

Along the Somme front violent bombardments continue. The French have made an advance for their lines at Vermandovillers. In the Champagne district the French have captured German trenches on a front of 1000 yards.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

There may be cohesion among the Entente allies, but it is of a sort not easy to understand at the distance of 6000 miles. Thus one wonders why, in the light of the great battle waging in Rumania between the Russo-Rumanians on the one hand and the Germanics on the other, there should be a lull in the West. A sure way to prolong the war and a poor way to shorten it. The American crop report may well cause consternation in London. It shows a shortage of cereals for export. We may lack bread for ourselves and on top of it all the bakers have decided to raise the price to ten cents. Starvation rather than bullets may terminate the absurd European struggle. If so let us pray for a famine.

Villa continues to be Villa. He is still on earth. He has a lean and hungry look. Thus he is like Will Shakespeare's Cassius. Such men are dangerous. President Wilson is well aware of that. Some of the Villistas attacked the American engineering camp in Mexico. Meanwhile the American and Mexican joint high commissioners are in session at New London.

VILLISTAS ATTACK.

American Camp is Raided.

Bandit Himself Now Definitely Located in the Santa Clara Canyon.

Outlaw Reported to be Quite Thin and Walking by Aid of Crutches.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 8.—Thirty Mexicans, supposed to be Villa followers, made a raid on the engineer camp of the American punitive expedition and escaped with a mule, according to members of the expeditionary force arriving here today from Mexico by way of Columbus, N. M. This incursion, which took place last Wednesday on an isolated portion of the camp at Ojo Federico, is believed by the military authorities here to have been indirectly responsible for today's rumor of the clash between the Fifth Cavalry and Sixteenth Infantry of regulars and a band of Villa followers south of El Valle, Chihuahua.

Otherwise, the story of that fight must be called a pure hoax, the officers say.

Information received at the military headquarters in El Paso confirms the presence of Villa in the Santa Clara Canyon.

TALKS TO NATIVES.

Villa, on his northward march, told the natives that he intended to eat dinner at Parral, on the Mexican independence day, September 16, but he later said he would take part in the celebration at Chihuahua City on the evening of the 15th, which is carnival night in Mexico. Such, at least, is the story brought here today out of Mexico by a man well acquainted with the people. He also said he talked to a Mexican who recently interviewed Villa in an effort to secure the release of some commandeered mules. The Mexican said the bandit chief looked very thin and yellow and still used crutches when walking, although able to ride a horse.

CAVAZOS KILLED.

A rumor current in Chihuahua City, travelers report, is to the effect that Gen. Jose Cavazos, who headed an expedition some months ago to hunt for the body of Villa, when Villa was supposed to be dead, was killed this week by his own men, who then deserted to the bandits.

All accounts of the natives agree that Villa, on his northern march, had only a few rounds of cartridges for each man. But now, evidence is said to show that some caches of ammunition have been recovered by the bandits, as they are carrying full belts and bandoliers.

Another Mexican report, apparently reliable, has it that Carranza has withdrawn from the Presidential race in favor of Obregon. This is taken as a step toward conciliating the factions hostile to the Constitutional government.

MEXICAN RESOURCES CARRANZA'S TRUST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 8.—A decree published by the Carranza government today forbids Governors in the various States of Mexico to issue decrees affecting the natural resources of the country, including banking, forests, fisheries, mines and public lands or their administration. All laws and decrees heretofore dictated by Governors are nullified. Under the new order the resources of Mexico are placed exclusively under Federal jurisdiction.

WILSON IN MEXICO POLICY DEFENDED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—In a speech today defending the Mexican policy of President Wilson, Representative Harrison, Mississippi, Democrat, read to the House a telegram President Taft sent to the Governor of Arizona on April 18, 1911, saying that it was impossible to "foresee or reckon the consequences" of intervention and that "we must use the greatest self-constraint to avoid it."

"I approve that sentiment of President Taft," said Mr. Harrison.

Representative Denison of Illinois, Republican, interrupted to say that he, too, approved that, but the cases of Taft and Wilson were different, that the former's policy was a temporary one and the latter's a permanent.

Mr. Harrison insisted that the same conditions confronted both.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The mosquito is blamed as a carrier of infantile paralysis in a letter that will be published tomorrow in the New York Medical Journal by Dr. Charles S. Braddock, Jr., formerly chief medical inspector for the Siamese government. A similarity is pointed out in the spread of the plague and in the spread of yellow fever.

"In a Little While."

WILSON PREDICTS WOMEN GET VOTE.

PRESIDENT PROMISES SUPPORT IN SUFFRAGIST FIGHT.

Four Thousand Delegates at Atlantic City Convention Cheer Pledge, and Nominee is Told of Audience's Hope of Victory During His Administration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 8.—Triumph for the woman suffrage cause "in a little while" was predicted by President Wilson here tonight in a speech before the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

"I have come here to fight with you," the President declared. Immediately the 4000 women present stood and cheered. A few minutes later Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the association, with Mr. Wilson still present, declared: "We have waited long enough to get the vote. We want it now. I want it to come during your administration." Again the great audience of women stood and cheered, waving handkerchiefs.

The President's pledge of support to the suffrage question caused Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the organization, to say in a speech soon after he closed: "You touched our hearts and won our fealty when you said you had come here to fight with us."

The President did not speak on the method by which he would bring about woman suffrage, but said "we shall not quarrel in the long run as to the method of it."

PATRIOTIC ACTION.

President Wilson was applauded when he left the hotel for the Boardwalk Theater, where the meeting was held. When he arrived an orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner" and all the women delegates stood and clapped. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson walked onto the stage between two lines of forty-eight women bearing American and suffrage flags. Secretary and Mrs. Daniels were in a box.

The theater was packed with women, but there were a few men present. The President sat under an American flag made of electric lights. Mrs. Catt, president of the suffrage association, presided, and Dr. Shaw, honorary president, sat next to the President.

Speakers in addition to President Wilson were Mrs. Raymon Robins, wife of the Illinois Progressive leader; Mrs. Julia Lathrope, chief of the Federal children's bureau; Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, chief of the New York Parole Commission, and Dr. Owen Lovejoy of Oregon.

The President was applauded by the women when Dr. Lovejoy told how Mr. Wilson recently signed the child-labor bill.

Most of the delegates wore evening dresses. Directly in front of the President was the black and yellow banner of the suffrage association of New Jersey, his home State.

GREATEST ENTHUSIASM.

Mr. Wilson aroused the greatest enthusiasm when he said whenever he had come to Atlantic City previously he had come to fight against somebody, but that on his present trip he had come "to fight with somebody." The women in the boxes, the orchestra and the balcony stood and cheered.

The meeting came to an end with the President and Mrs. Wilson standing between suffrage leaders joining in singing patriotic songs.

In his address the President did not mention his previously expressed belief that suffrage should come through action by States.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN THE INCOME TAX.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Members of the conference committee on the revenue bill today pointed out an important change in the income tax section as finally approved, extending the $4000 exemption instead of the $3000 one to "heads of families" whether married or not, replacing the provision of the old law which gave the larger exemption only to "married persons."

CHILD MAY STAY NOOSE.

Gov. Dunne to Hear Why Boy Called Another Man Papa.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Gov. Dunne will be asked tomorrow to commute the sentence of George Krupka, sentenced to death after one of the shortest trials in the history of Illinois for the murder of his wife with an axe.

Attorneys for Krupka declare they have discovered new evidence that Krupka's 12-year-old son had been taught by his mother to call another man "papa."

The boy will be taken to Springfield tomorrow to appear before the Governor. Krupka was brought to trial, convicted and sentenced all in one day.

ONE LOAF, ONE DIME.

Jitney Bread Thing of the Past.

Master Bakers Decide to Standardize the Staff of Life for All.

"And Everybody will Profit by the Change," is Their Declaration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Recommendations to all bakers of the United States that the 5-cent loaf of bread be abandoned and the 10-cent loaf standardized were made after considerable discussion at the closing session of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Master Bakers today.

They urged that the recommendations be put into effect immediately.

Economic waste incident to the 5-cent loaf was emphasized as a reason for its discontinuance. Saving in manufacture, improvement in quality and standardization are urged in favor of the 10-cent loaf.

It is also recommended that where local conditions make it necessary the smaller loaf may be maintained, with a price consistent with cost of manufacture.

REASONS.

The bakers cited the following percentages of increased cost in ingredients in the manufacture of bread within the past two years:

Patent flour, 100 per cent.; rye, 124 per cent.; sugar, 66 per cent.; shortening, 60 per cent.; milk, 40 per cent.; salt, 14 per cent.; wrapping paper, 70 per cent. Delivery costs also have increased, it was stated, through an advance of 100 per cent. in price of gasoline and of 25 per cent. in the feed for horses.

The bakers went on record strongly against any attempt to lower the quality of bread. "No fluctuation of market prices in ingredients, nor any future change should be permitted to interfere in any way with the quality of bread manufactured, nor with the services of the baker to the public," the resolution stated.

GENESIS.

The conference here was an outgrowth of the bakers' national convention at Salt Lake City, several months ago, at which formal resolutions to the same effect were voted. Already the price of bread had been advanced or the 5-cent loaf abandoned in several cities. At one time there were threats of a government investigation of a concerted movement to increase the price. Bakers attending the conference here said they have no fear of such action now.

In view of the fact that the 5-cent loaf of bread has been an American institution for nearly a century, many bakers objected to its abandonment. They sought to urge reduction in size of the 5-cent loaf instead. It was decided against this, however, owing to the expenditure for new pans and machinery, with which bakeries are generally equipped for the large loaf.

Mr. McDonald said he believed most of the bakers of the country will adopt the plan suggested today.

"The bakers, the housewife and the retailers will all benefit in the end by the 10-cent loaf," he declared.

STUDENT AVIATORS SUFFER A FALL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Flying at a height of between 600 and 700 feet over Governor's Island today, a biplane containing J. Walter W. Struthers and Charles D. Wiman, student aviators in training for the aero reserve corps, authorized recently by President Wilson, became unmanageable and fell to the ground. Each aviator had one leg broken and received cuts and possibly internal injuries. Both are expected to recover.

ROOSEVELT TO MAKE ADDITIONAL SPEECHES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Theodore Roosevelt, according to information from the Republican national headquarters today, has been asked to take a more active part in the Hughes campaign, and has consented to a considerable addition to the number of speeches already arranged for him.

The colonel's part in the campaign was discussed at a conference at Oyster Bay yesterday and today, when a number of Republican leaders went to Mr. Roosevelt's home to figure with him in a series of moving pictures. These pictures will show the colonel shaking hands and conversing with several prominent Republicans and Progressives.

BUSINESS WINS, LOSES, IN THE REVENUE LAW.

Net Income Levy on Corporations is Doubled, but the Obnoxious Tithe on Recorded Instruments and Papers is Abandoned—Act Still Empowers the President to Deal with the British Blacklist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 8.—Business both wins and loses under the new deficiency tax bill. While the obnoxious taxes on recorded papers, evidence of transfers of securities and similar obligations were knocked out, the net income tax on corporations was doubled from 1 to 2 per cent. and a levy of 50 cents for each $1000 of capital, surplus and undivided profits, including investments, was levied, the exemption provided being $99,000. The special net income tax applies to all corporations, joint stock companies and insurance companies, but not to partnerships. In the matter of partnerships the tax is to be levied on the income of the partners.

AS TO THE BLACKLIST.

The revenue bill contains drastic provisions empowering the President to retaliate against foreign interference with American commerce, creates a nonpartisan tariff commission, increases the duties on dyestuffs to encourage their manufacture in the United States, and provides means to prevent dumping of cheap foreign-made goods into American markets after the war.

The bill is designed to raise $205,000,000 a year in addition to the normal amount.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Total appropriations were $1,626,439,209, and features are:

Increasing from 1 to 2 per cent. the tax on the lowest taxable incomes. Beginning at incomes of $50,000 the tax of 2 per cent. is levied and graduated up to 13 per cent. on incomes exceeding $2,000,000 per annum. The additional tax is to include undistributed profits of corporations, joint stock companies or associations. Proceeds of life insurance policies, farm loan securities and interest upon the obligations of the United States or a State are exempt from this tax.

Increase from 1 to 2 per cent. on the total net income of corporations, joint stock companies or associations or insurance companies organized in the United States. The exemption from this tax includes labor, agricultural and horticultural organizations, mutual savings banks not having a capital stock represented by shares, fraternal beneficial societies, domestic building and loan associations and corporation banks organized and operated for mutual purposes and without profit, business, civil and religious leagues, clubs for pleasure, farmers and other mutual fire insurance companies, joint stock land banks.

An inheritance tax, new under the Federal government, is laid as follows: Net estate not in excess of $50,000, 1 per cent.; up to $150,000, 2 per cent.; to $250,000, 3 per cent.; to $450,000, 4 per cent.; to $1,000,000, 5 per cent.; to $2,000,000, 6 per cent.; to $3,000,000, 7 per cent.; to $4,000,000, 8 per cent.; to $5,000,000, 9 per cent.; exceeding $5,000,000, 10 per cent.

COPPER.

The Senators from the copper-producing States forced the House to abandon its proposed tax on smelter plants, but the House got an increase of from 10 to 12½ per cent. in the general tax on the net revenues of munitions manufacturers. This tax will cease when the European war ends.

The stamp taxes carried in the House by its bill were eliminated by the Senate. These included the special stamps on recorded papers, evidence of transfers of securities and similar obligations.

The special brokers, theater and amusement house taxes are continued in the Senate bill; also, the increased tax levied by the House on tobacco products.

The Senate tacked to the House bill and the House conferees accepted a provision to tax print paper valued above 5 cents per pound 12 per cent. ad valorem, provided that if a foreign country from which imports come lay an export duty an additional amount equal to such special export tax be added.

PRODIGAL OUTLAYS.

And New Jobs by Thousands.

Why the Democrats are Costing Taxpayers Over Two Billion Dollars.

Analysis of the Unparalleled Extravagance of Wilson Administration.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 8.—The extravagance of the Democratic Congress and the Wilson administration, as exemplified in the amazing record of the $2,000,000,000 Congress just ended, was analyzed today by Senators Smoot and Penrose, the leading Republican members on the Senate Finances Committee. They show that the expenditures authorized not only exceed $2,000,000,000, but that 30,000 new positions were created by the Congress, costing the government over $40,000,000.

PENROSE'S CONTENTION.

Senator Penrose contended that even allowing for big appropriations for national defense, the expenditures voted by the Congress just ended exceed those of any other Congress by $200,000,000. Senator Penrose says that the treasury of the United States, by reason of reckless extravagance is, in fact, bankrupt and that the revenues for the year will fall to meet the expenditures. Senator Penrose figures the grand total of outlays authorized by the Congress at $3,347,127,689, and this does not include $25,000,000 for the Danish West Indies and $30,000,000 which the government probably will have to refund on imports.

SMOOT'S STATEMENT.

Here is Senator Smoot's statement:

"For nine long, weary months Congress has been in session," says Senator Smoot. "For years to come it will be known as the most extravagant session of Congress in the way of appropriations in the history of our country. The direct appropriations made at this session of Congress amount to $1,620,383,652.64, and there have been contracts authorized for the fiscal year 1917 and future appropriations authorized in these same appropriation bills amounting to $316,875,846, or a total of direct and authorized appropriations and contracts amounting to the enormous sum of $1,947,259,498.64.

"The largest appropriation for one session of Congress ever made before was for the fiscal year 1915, amounting to $1,116,118,188.58. It is admitted that of the appropriations made at this session of Congress $890,000,000 at the outside can be charged to what is commonly called national preparedness. The difference between the appropriations of this session, less $890,000,000, and that of the fiscal year 1915 shows the wanton extravagance of this administration.

"Over 30,000 new positions have been created, costing our government over $40,000,000; and many of these positions have been filled in direct violation of the civil service law.

"The administration has imposed burdensome and irritating internal taxes as substitutes for a portion of import duties upon foreign goods shipped into this country. It has imposed taxes which bear unequally and unfairly upon different sections of the country. It is now proven that the import duties imposed by the Underwood Tariff Act fall far below the point providing the needed revenue for our government.

"The average duty rate for the year 1912, under the last Republican tariff act, was 18 per cent. The average duty rate under the Underwood law for 1916 was 9.72 per cent. The amount of importations for the last fiscal year was $2,197,813,519 and if these imports had paid the same average rate of duty as was paid on imports for the year ending June 30, 1913, under Republican law, the amount collected would have been $395,619,031 instead of $211,866,222, the amount collected under the Underwood law, or there would have been a gain to the treasury of the United States of $183,753,809. With this additional amount collected from customs, with the unnecessary and extravagant appropriations of more than $150,000,000 which should and could have been saved to the government, would have amounted to a sum sufficient to meet the unjust taxes imposed upon the people by the Democratic revenue bill forced through Congress at this session.

"Instead of an eight-hour-day law, as claimed by the apologists of the present administration, there was passed under threats of a nation-wide strike an eight-hour-wage law. There is nothing in the law to prevent the railroads of the country from compelling the men to work sixteen hours per day. I predict that the enactment of that law will prove the greatest blow that could have been given to organized labor. I do not believe Congress has the power to fix the wages of any man outside of the government service. I do not believe the laboring men of this country, after deliberate consideration, will consent to any such proposition. There has been more demagogy indulged in at this session of Congress than at any session since I have been a member of the Senate."

WHAT PENROSE SAID.

Senator Penrose said:

"There has been appropriated at the recent session a larger amount of money than ever before in the history of the country. It is misleading to state that the additional amount appropriated at this session has been required for 'preparedness'

Government Report.

HEAT, DROUGHT REDUCE CROPS.

Less Wheat than Needed for Domestic Needs.

Unusually Short Output of Potatoes, Forecast.

Record-breaking Harvest of Rice, Hay, Tobacco.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Heavy damage to the country's cereal crops during August caused a loss of many millions of bushels in prospective production, cutting down the outlook for wheat to below the amount required for home consumption.

The Department of Agriculture's monthly forecast, issued today, estimates the wheat crop at 611,000,000 bushels, or 9,000,000 bushels less than is calculated to be necessary for domestic use. A carry-over of approximately 150,000,000 bushels of old wheat from last year's record-breaking crop, however, will make up the deficiency and leave something like 100,000,000 bushels available to supply the heavy demands of foreign nations for American wheat.

SPRING WHEAT SHORT.

Spring wheat, parched by hot and dry weather, showed a loss of 42,000,000 bushels since the August forecast of production, while corn estimates were 87,000,000 bushels smaller than forecast a month ago.

A preliminary estimate of the winter wheat crop places the production at 455,000,000 bushels and that of spring wheat at 156,000,000. The prospective spring wheat crop is the smallest in twenty-two years and 300,000,000 bushels less than harvested last year. The total wheat crop is placed at 611,000,000 bushels, which is 400,000,000 bushels less than last year's record-breaking crop of 1,013,000,000 bushels. The combined winter and spring wheat crop is the smallest since 1900 and acre yield the lowest in twenty-three years.

HEAVY LOSS IN CORN.

The heavy loss in prospective production of corn was due to drought. In Oklahoma, many fields of corn were cut for ensilage or fodder. The total crop is forecast at 2,710,000,000 bushels, which is 32,000,000 bushels smaller than the average for the last five years.

An unusually short output of white potatoes for winter supply is forecast. Production of 318,000,000 bushels is indicated. That is 46,000,000 bushels less than forecast a month ago and the smallest crop since 1911.

Other losses from the production estimates made a month ago are: Oats 42,000,000 bushels; barley, 11,000,000 bushels; buckwheat, 1,300,000 bushels; rice, 1,400,000 bushels; cotton, 1,100,000 bales; apples 3,900,000 barrels, and peaches, 3,400,000 bushels.

MORE HAY AND TOBACCO.

While cereals suffered a serious damage during the month, hay and tobacco prospects increased and the harvests of these two crops and also of rice will be record-breaking.

There was an increase of 27,000,000 pounds in the indicated production of tobacco, making a crop of 1,634,000,000 pounds and exceeding the record crop of 1910 by 121,000,000 pounds.

Hay production is forecast at 86,000,000 tons, which is 1,600,000 tons more than forecast a month ago and 1,000,000 tons more than last year's record crop.

Rice, which declined 1,400,000 bushels from a month ago, promises a crop of 32,900,000 bushels, which would be almost 2,000,000 bushels more than the record crop harvested last year.

SUBMARINE ATTACKS AN AMERICAN SHIP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Details of the firing on and stopping of the American steamship Owego by a German submarine in the English Channel on August 3 were told by Capt. E. W. Barlow of the Owego on her arrival today from Rotterdam.

Capt. Barlow confirmed cable reports that he was unable to see the submarine because of a thick haze. He said that apparently there was no intention on the part of the U-boat's captain to hit the Owego and added that he had no complaint to make.

"We were nearing the French coast at the time," Capt. Barlow said. "I was at dinner when my mate told me he had distinguished gunfire close at hand. I went on deck in time to hear the sharp reports of a gun near by. There was a calm sea with a thick haze. I could not see the submarine, but several shots were fired and a projectile passed the stern of my ship. I stopped, and shortly after the submarine appeared. We were flying at the time an American flag twenty-two feet long, and on both sides of the ship flags were painted together with the name of the vessel and the letters, 'U. S. A.'

"The submarine commander ordered me to come to him, which I did in a boat. His first words were, 'Captain, you should be more careful; this is war time.'

"I replied by saying, 'You should be more careful. Didn't you see my flag?'

"'But I signaled you to stop,' the officer said. To which I replied:

"'How could I see your signals when I could not see your boat?'

"The commander was very pleasant. He examined my papers, then gave me a written permit to proceed. He signed the permit, 'Neimbrinck, Commandant U.'

"I am satisfied he did not intend to hit my ship, and I have no complaint to make."

THE LOS ANGELES ADVERTISING SCORE.

In printing the advertising records of all the daily and Sunday newspapers in Los Angeles every day, The Times does not attempt to mislead or deceive its readers by using figures that concern only certain kinds of advertising. It boldly publishes the figures of all classes of advertising printed in each local newspaper.

The juggling of figures is left to those newspapers that dare not tell the whole truth and that have not the courage or fairness to make honest comparisons.

For the week ending Sunday, September 3, the Los Angeles newspapers published the following number of lines of advertising (300 agate lines make one column):

	Display advs.	Want advs.	Total.	Times' lead.
First—Los Angeles Times	124,110	84,742	208,852

Irremovable.

HER BLACKLIST IS INDELIBLE.

And Britannia will not Change it for the Americans.

General Defense of Her Way of Conducting Trade.

Reply to Wilson's Protest is Promised by Cecil.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 8, 6:21 p.m.—"It is not likely that Great Britain will change her blacklist policy at the request of the United States," said Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Trade, in discussing today the possible effect of American retaliatory legislation. To the Associated Press Lord Robert stated that a reply to the blacklist protest made by the United States may be expected soon.

Lord Robert, however, declined to enter into the details of the contents of the reply, beyond the statement that the principle embodied in British legislation forbidding trading with an enemy country is unlikely to be surrendered in any measure.

The Minister of War Trade professed himself to be puzzled by provisions in the revenue bill passed by Congress at Washington dealing with the prohibition of imports, as such orders, he said, were adopted strictly in an effort to conserve tonnage and were applied accordingly.

GENERAL DEFENSE.

In a general defense of British commercial acts, Lord Robert Cecil said to the Associated Press:

"The ideas expressed by some of your newspapers that Great Britain is adopting a deliberate policy with which to injure American trade is the purest moonshine, since outside of our own dominions our trade with the United States is the most important. Of course, natural trade rivalry exists, but no responsible statesman in this country would dream of proposing any insane measure designed to injure American commerce.

"Any impression that the blacklist is merely an entering wedge for a trade warfare after the war may be dismissed at once. I assure you that blacklist is purely a war measure and I cannot insist too strongly that the government is taking every precaution to guarantee its enforcement so as to cause as little hardship as possible to innocent traders.

"We believe our trade measures are proving efficacious, although it is difficult to give any figures indicating the extent of the harm done to our enemies, but I might point out that the mark is still declining in value."

It was then pointed out to Lord Robert that the belief prevailed that consignments of trading with blacklisted firms might be refused shipment from American to other neutral ports through the fear of not getting coal. Lord Robert replied:

"This fear is ungrounded, as we have no desire to interfere nor does the law compel any interference with legitimate trade. We are taking precaution to prevent an unjustified extension of the blacklist."

ASKED AND ANSWERED.

Questioned in regard to the fate of a ship accepting a consignment from a blacklisted firm to any South American port, the Minister of War Trade said:

"I fear we have to insist that our nationals refuse to supply coal for such a purpose, and I am afraid that a refusal of the United States to permit the clearance of a vessel carrying such a consignment would cause friction between the two countries."

Lord Robert expressed the opinion that not only the purpose of the blacklist but also the real design of the Paris economic conference was misunderstood in the United States, saying in this connection:

"The real purpose of the Paris conference was to arrive at some plan by which to permit any resumption or extension of the politico-commercial system prevailing before the war in the first place, and in the second to devise means for accomplishing, both for ourselves and our allies, the enormous task of reconstruction. We fully realize that such a plan must involve readjustments of existing treaties, which, with their favored nation clauses, now stand in the way. However, it must be remembered that with the exception of this country, which has no tariff wall, all countries have constantly evaded and violated the favored nations clause."

In conclusion Lord Robert declared that the adoption of the plan outlined at the Paris conference might result in a world-wide scientific tariff.

WITHOUT COMMENT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) Sept. 8, 6:50 p.m.—Berlin newspapers today print without comment a Washington dispatch telling of the adoption of the revenue bill amendments regarding discrimination against American trade. Only the Vossische Zeitung discusses the dispatch briefly. It is inclined to regard the measure as an "election maneuver" and warns the German public against expecting Washington to take any decisive action against Great Britain.

HUGHES AGHAST AT STRIKE LEGISLATION.

CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE ADAMSON LAW ARE ATTACKED.

Nominee, in Lewiston Speech, Declares Executive Functions and Congressional Duty Abandoned in Enactment to Stave off Walkout by Railway Employees.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LEWISTON (Me.) Sept. 8.—Charles E. Hughes, speaking here today, continued his attack on the administration in connection with the enactment of the Adamson law. Mr. Hughes asserted that the "whole country stood aghast" at the abandonment of executive prerogative and Congressional duty.

"Now if any one rises in this country to say that I am not the friend of labor," the nominee added, "he knows he is not telling the truth."

Mr. Hughes, reviewing his record in connection with labor legislation while Governor of New York, read an editorial from the Legislative Labor News of October, 1910, in which it was said he was the "greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the Governor's chair at Albany."

"That is complimentary, but it is true," Mr. Hughes said. "It was written at a time when I supposed and they supposed that I had left forever the political field.

"What we need in this country is fair-mindedness. When we have a grievance the thing to do is to examine the bases of fact. There is not a question in this country that cannot be settled if you get at it in the right way.

"The bill to which I refer carried on its face the declaration of its own defeats. It proceeded to absolutely impose a wage scale and then to consider it, to find out whether it had any business doing it.

"I want fair wages, but the principles of American government underlie every contract, every opportunity of labor. Why, the laboring men of this country can no more take the chance of surrendering what has been won in our long fight than they can surrender the opportunities of their very existence. These things are vital to labor and to every American citizen."

ASSAILS DEMOCRATIC SURRENDER TO FORCE.

BANGOR (Me.) Sept. 8.—Maine audiences from Lewiston to Bangor today heard Charles E. Hughes assail the administration for "surrender to force" in the enactment of the Adamson law.

The nominee ended the second day of his Maine campaign with an address here tonight in which he brought his audience to its feet with prolonged applause and cheers by a declaration that the American people would never give up government by law and reason, won at the cost of continuous fighting.

"Look at the history of the past," he said, "and of its majestic spectacle of the people coming down that long path. Now they are defeated, now they are victorious, but still they come on, the plain people. They come slowly on, winning their way, crushing out every form of tyranny, destroying autocracy, securing the right to choose their own representatives, winning representative government until here in America we have the finest demonstration the world ever has known of government by law and reason.

"Shall we give it up? Never, never!"

The audience rose, waved hundreds of small flags, cheered and applauded.

The nominee told his audience that he felt sure of a Republican victory in both the State and the nation.

Mr. Hughes stood the strain of fast campaigning well and tonight was feeling somewhat tired, but, as he said, "never better."

He will leave tomorrow morning for Augusta and the last day of the State campaign.

Suffrage.

TO FIGHT ON AS NONPARTISANS.

Women will not Align with National Candidates.

Attempt to Commit Association is Defeated.

Near-million Campaign Fund Quickly Subscribed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 8.—The National American Woman Suffrage Association today reaffirmed its policy of nonpartisanship as an organization toward national political parties and defeated, by an overwhelming vote, an attempt to place the association on record as in favor of supporting national candidates who pledge their support to the proposed equal rights amendment to the Federal Constitution.

The resolution, which was introduced by Mrs. Raymond Robins, wife of the chairman of the last national convention of the Progressive party, was branded by some of the delegates as an anti-Wilson movement, despite vehement denials by Mrs. Robins and others who signed the resolution.

The resolution provoked a long and warm debate, in which these denials were supplemented by declarations that the resolution was nonpartisan and that it was not aimed at President Wilson, who has not come out in support of the Federal amendment.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the association, was vehement in her denunciation of the resolution.

She supported other speakers who said the passage of the resolution would hurt the suffrage cause all over the United States. She drew attention to the fact that President Wilson favors woman suffrage and voted for it in his own State.

REAFFIRM ATTITUDE.

After the Robins resolution was defeated the convention adopted a resolution reaffirming its nonpartisan attitude toward national political parties. The resolution also stated that this policy did not preclude the right of any member of the association from working against the election of any candidate of women in States where they have the right to vote.

The resolution introduced in the convention several days ago by President Carrie Chapman Catt, that the immediate and principal aim of the association was the passage of the Federal amendment and that all State work was only preparatory thereto, was withdrawn. The subject will be introduced in another form, Mrs. Catt said, as the resolution, because of the opposition it has met, apparently has been misunderstood.

CAMPAIGN METHODS.

The convention spent much of the afternoon in deciding on methods of carrying on its campaign for suffrage. The question of opposing the re-election of those members of the House Judiciary Committee, whether Democrats or Republicans, who blocked the suffrage amendment in committee, was left to the judgment of the association's Congressional Committee.

Two days in October and one in November are to be observed as Federal amendment days, with demonstrations and public meetings in many States.

A campaign fund of $818,800 was raised in thirty minutes. New York pledged $225,000 and Pennsylvania $125,000. A delegate from Massachusetts, said to be a Mrs. Clackwell, gave $10,000, and Mrs. Catt also contributed $10,000. There were other individual gifts from $3000 down to $10.

LEARN HOW TO VOTE.

Delegates to the convention here, who say they expect to be enfranchised before many years have passed, are taking time by the forelock, and learning how to vote.

In carrying out the election the women are using voting machines in order to be able to vote without making a mistake. Mrs. Catt tried one in New York a week ago and voted a full ticket in seventeen seconds.

With the exception of three officers who have announced they will retire, all the present officers expect to be re-elected. So far as can be learned, Mrs. Catt has no opposition for president. It is said Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia, Mo., will be elected first vice-president to succeed Mrs. Frank M. Roessing of Pittsburgh, Pa.

At the afternoon session the following resolution was adopted:

"We reaffirm our nonpartisan attitude concerning national parties, but this policy does not preclude the right of any member to work against the election of any candidate who opposes woman suffrage, nor refer to the personal attitude of enfranchised women."

Young Angeleno is Jailed After He is Found with a Girl Who had Been Missing Some Days. No Formal Charge is Yet Preferred.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Junius I. Mulholland, 21 years old, of Los Angeles, was arrested here tonight after Miss Martha McCormick, 21 years old, daughter of Dr. C. McCormick, a wealthy physician of Farmington, Mo., who has been missing since last Monday, was found in a house where, it is alleged, she had been taken by Mulholland. The house where the girl was found is only five doors from her boarding place.

Relatives of the missing girl who have been searching for her since her disappearance, accompanied by police, went to the house where she was found, after they had noticed one of her skirts hanging on a line in the yard. She said she had gone to the house of her own accord and was too frightened to telephone to her family later.

Mulholland told the police he and the girl intended to be married. He said he had gone out to get a marriage license when the police arrived at the house, but had been unable to obtain it without the presence of the girl at the license office. No charge has been placed against him.

ALLEGED CONFESSION IS MADE BY PETTIT.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Details of the "spiritual" promptings which caused him to slay his young wife to "save her soul" are contained in a confession said to have been obtained from J. Maurice Pettit, the former Cedar Rapids (Iowa) bank cashier, in jail here today.

In the confession Pettit is quoted as saying that when he was married in the early part of the year he expected to live with his wife on a "spiritual plane," but that his mother-in-law objected to that plan. Although his wife was a "pure woman," the confession continued, he had "attacks" of jealous fits, in one of which he cut the throat of his wife with a razor, and left her lying dead, while he fled the house.

According to the confession, Pettit sought to kill himself on the farm near Detroit, where he was captured, and that he yet hoped to end his life so he could join his bride "spiritually."

FISHERIES ISSUE WITH THE CANUCKS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Settlement of the Alaskan fisheries difficulty with Canada probably will be made by a joint high commission as the result of the defeat of the Chamberlain resolution designed to rehabilitate the American industry.

British officials here, expecting reintroduction of the legislation in the December session of Congress, say efforts will be made to reach an amicable understanding to ward off a threatened fisheries reprisals war.

State Department officials are not certain that the present fisheries agreement with Canada applies elsewhere than to the North Atlantic, but believe there will be no difficulty in an extension to cover the present situation.

DECISION HITS STATE'S RIGHTS

Federal Control of Intrastate Rates Forecast.

Iowa Ruling is Viewed as Setting Precedent.

Commerce Commission's Rulings Affirmed by Court.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Sept. 8.—A decision, which, in the opinion of prominent attorneys, must in effect, establish the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission to overrule rates established by States for intrastate business, was handed down here today by the Federal District Court in the case of South Dakota express rates.

The decision overruled the action of South Dakota shippers in securing injunction to restrain express companies doing business in the State from increasing their tariffs to conform with the uniform rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Interstate Commerce Commission also was made a defendant in the action. Judge Walter H. Smith of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and Judge Martin J. Wade of the Iowa district bench, District Court, signed the decision. Judge Henry T. Reed of the United States District Court, northern district of Iowa, dissented.

It was stated that the case was one of the precedent to be established by the decision caused long conferences among the judges responsible for the decision cast by Judge Reed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The second day of the strike of unionized employees of New York's subway, elevated and surface lines brought little interruption to service but developed a contest which, it was said, may decide whether the city's car men will be permitted to organize.

Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company and the New York Railways Company, struck at the union by offering to take back all striking New York Railways Company employees (surface car motormen and conductors) who quit the union by tomorrow. Strike-breakers, he declared, would be put in the places of all these employees who do not accept his offer.

THREATS.

Union leaders tonight threatened to extend the strike to the lines of the Third Avenue Railroad Company, the Second Avenue Company and the Union Railways Company unless the heads of these lines pledge themselves not to circulate individual contracts among their men similar to those binding the workers not to ask for wage increase for two years, which brought on the Interborough strike and the sympathetic New York Railways strike. The Third avenue line, it was said, flatly refused the demands.

A SUGGESTION.

James L. Quackenbush, general counsel for the Interborough, declared at an investigation held by the public service commission's legislation must be changed, even to amending the State Constitution if necessary to enable a government of laws and not of men.

Sixty-fourth Congress.

REVIEW WORK OF CONGRESS.

Session Concerned in the Main with National Defense.

Reorganization and Re-equipment of Army and Navy.

Shipping Board and a Tariff Commissnon Established.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The first session of the Sixty-fourth Congress, which adjourned today, was devoted chiefly with national defense.

When the gavel fell Congress had directed reorganization and re-equipment of the army and navy for defense of the country at the unprecedented cost of $655,000,000, with authorizations that will increase the total in three years to nearly $800,000,000. With all other expenditures appropriations were brought to the grand total of $1,027,543,663, the greatest aggregate in the country's history and doubtless that for the last fiscal year by more than $500,000,000. Expenditures necessitated by preparedness and the calling into action of military forces to meet the various emergency demanded revenue legislation in the closing days of the session. Congress responded by doubling the normal tax on incomes, creating an inheritance tax, increase tax and miscellaneous excise to raise $205,000,000 and by directing sale of $150,000,000 Panama Canal bonds.

TARIFF COMMISSION.

Congress established a tariff commission, a government shipping board to rehabilitate the American merchant marine, a workmen's compensation commission to administer a new uniform compensation law, a ship-loan banking system, a child-labor law, enlarged the system of self-government in the Philippines and enacted many other important laws which had been contemplated by the administration.

The session was disturbed throughout by frequently-recurring threats of foreign complications from the European war and imminence at times of a diplomatic break with Mexico; interference with American mails and commerce, invasion of American soil and killing of citizens by Mexican bandits, and finally of actual war with Mexico. Delay in the session trouble arose in the Senate over the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to succeed the late Justice Lamar as a member of the Supreme Court. A time of investigation and deliberation by the Judiciary Committee and confirmation of Mr. Brandeis by a large majority.

NEW LAW.

The important legislative enactments of the session, exclusive of those for national defense, included the following:

Railroad eight-hour-day law—Establishing eight hours as the standard for reckoning the compensation of railroad employees operating trains in interstate commerce after January 1, 1917, and providing for the appointment of three to investigate the operation of the eight-hour standard; amount wages not to be reduced during the investigation nor for thirty days thereafter, and work in excess of eight hours to be paid for at time-and-a-half rate.

Government ship law—Appropriating $50,000,000 to operate ships in foreign and coastwise trade when necessary to lease them to individuals or private corporations.

Child-labor law—Denying interstate commerce to products of mines or factories employing children under 16 years of age, and factories, canneries and other establishments employing children under 14 years.

Rural credits law—Establishing a farm loan board in control of a system of farm-loan mortgage banks.

Workmen's compensation law—Providing uniform sick and accident benefits for employees of the Federal government, and benefits to dependents in case of death.

Emergency revenue law—Providing for doubling the normal income tax on the lowest class; making an additional surtax ranging from 1 per cent on that portion of incomes exceeding $20,000 to 13 per cent. on that portion of incomes in excess of $2,000,000; levying a graduated tax of 1 to 10 per cent. on inheritances ranging from $50,000 to $5,000,000; a 2 per cent. net-profit tax on manufacturers of munitions, 5 per cent. tax on manufacturers of articles entering into munitions; a tax of 8 per cent. on actually-invested capital of corporations capitalized at more than $99,000; wine, beer and other excise taxes and miscellaneous taxes.

Good roads law—Providing for active Federal aid to the states for construction of highways, appropriating $75,000,000 to be paid in five years.

Postal savings law—Amendment increasing the amount which individuals may deposit from $500 to $1000, with interest, and an additional $1000 without interest.

Federal reserve—Amendments, including amendment to the Clayton anti-trust law permitting officers and directors of member banks to be officers and directors of not more than two other noncompeting banks; amendments permitting national banks to establish foreign branches; liberalising regulations for rediscounting commercial paper and permitting banks in town of 5000 or less population to act as agents for fire insurance companies.

Tariff commission legislation—Creation of a joint committee of Senate and House on Interstate Commerce committees to investigate necessity for further legislation for railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission; the question of government ownership of railroads, public utilities and comparative merits of government ownership as against government regulation.

Tariff commission—Creation of a nonpartisan commission of five members to investigate and advise Congress on tariff revisions; repeal of the free-list provisions of existing tariff laws; provisions increasing duties on certain articles to encourage manufactures in the United States; provisions of an anti-dumping provision to prevent dumping of foreign goods at less than fair market prices; authorization of the President to retaliate against countries prohibiting importation of goods from the United States by an embargo against importations from warring nations.

Revenue Act—Providing a tax on cotton sold for delivery in fictitious or wash sales.

Philippines Act—Law to provide for a more stable government of the Philippines, authorizing self-government, declaring for Philippine independence whenever, in the judgment of the United States, the Philippine people demonstrate capability for it.

Appropriations for all purposes were:

Agriculture	$ 24,548,853
Army	267,596,530
Diplomatic and consular	5,355,096
District of Columbia	12,841,907

Rivers and harbors	40,598,135
Sundry civil	128,290,285
Permanent appropriations	131,074,673

Rural credits	6,100,000
Good roads	6,000,000
Floods	2,000,000
Grand total	$1,027,543,663

In addition to the total there were authorizations for expenditures in future years including naval, good roads, tariff commission and other expenditures to bring the total to approximately $2,000,000,000, but these amounts do not properly apply to the appropriations for the fiscal year.

MISCELLANEOUS LAWS.

Congress enacted an unusually large amount of miscellaneous legislation, including reorganization of the patent office, provision for trial of space system in place of weight system for payment for railroad mail service and leaving to the Interstate Commerce Commission determination of the method and rate of pay; creation of a national park bureau in the Department of the Interior; establishing warehouse regulations for cotton and grains and providing a new grain grading law; extension for a year of the government war-risk insurance bureau; uniform law making bills of lading negotiable.

Proposed legislation which failed of enactment and has gone over until next winter includes the Immigration Bill; the Corrupt Practices Act to limit campaign expenditures for election of the President, Vice-President and members of Congress; a vocational education bill passed by the Senate; conservation legislation, including the Public Lands Water-power Bill, the Shields Navigable Streams Water-power Bill (which failed in conference,) the Oil-leasing Bill, including relief for California oil men; a flood-control bill which passed the House, and a bill to establish citizenship for natives of Porto Rico.

Four treaties were ratified by the Senate. The most important were the long-pending Nicaraguan convention providing for the acquisition of a canal route and naval stations rights in the Bay of Fonseca for $3,000,000, and that ratified in the closing hours provided for the purchase of the Danish West Indies for $25,000,000. Another was the treaty with the republic of Haiti providing for an American financial protectorate. The much-disputed pending treaty with Colombia after several years of consideration was favorably reported from the Foreign Relations Committee with an amendment reducing from $25,000,000 to $15,000,000 the proposed amount to be paid for the partition of Panama. The treaty, however, was never taken up in the Senate because of unrelenting opposition to it on the part of many Senators, and it remains on the calendar. The committee at the time of adjournment still had under consideration the proposed treaty with Denmark for purchase of the Danish West Indies for $25,000,000. A treaty with Great Britain providing for protection of migratory birds on both sides of the Canadian border was ratified.

Death claimed four members of Congress during the session—Senators Shively of Indiana and Burleigh of Maine, and Representatives Brown and Moss, both of West Virginia. Representative Witherspoon of Mississippi died just before the session began.

THOUSANDS OF BILLS FAILED TO PASS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—During the session of Congress closing today 17,800 bills and 642 resolutions were introduced in the House. Of these, 252 bills became laws and 33 public resolutions were adopted, in addition to 150 private bills and resolutions passed.

HIGHWAY BUREAU IN EVERY STATE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Each State must organize a highway department before the Department of Agriculture can co-operate with it in the distribution of funds provided for by the Federal Good Roads Act.

INCREASED EARNINGS OF THE RAILWAYS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Sixty-seven of the largest steam railways earned a net revenue of $545 per mile during last July, an increase of $43 a mile over July, 1915. A summary made public today by the Interstate Commerce Commission shows net revenues totaled $41,355,921, compared with $36,328,585 in July, 1915. The largest gains were made in the East.

GOVERNMENT TO RUN THE MANILA RAILROAD.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

MANILA, Sept. 7.—The sale of the Manila Railroad to the Philippine government was ratified today when a contract was signed by Gov.-Gen. Francis Burton Harrison of the Philippines and President Higgins of the railroad. Clyde A. Dewitt of the Public Utilities Commission now is in Washington arranging the details of the transfer.

The Manila Railroad has been encountering financial difficulties for several years and was said to be facing a probable receivership. The agreement provides that the government will receive all of the capital stock of the company for $4,000,000.

PHILIPPINE BONDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Philippine bonds soon will be offered for public sale, the War Department announced today, to pay for the Manila Railroad bought by the insular government for $4,000,000. Gov.-Gen. Harrison today cabled the War Department that he had signed the final contract for a transfer, authorized by the Philippine Assembly last February.

The Manila Railroad has trackage of 250 miles, extending in three directions from Manila, and is the only railroad on the island of Luson.

MORE RAILWAY LAWS ON WAY.

Wilson Issues Statement as Session Adjourns.

Three Administration Bills Go Over Till Winter.

Members Hurry Home for Rest or Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Adjournment of the first session of the Sixty-fourth Congress at 10 o'clock this morning without a hitch in the plans of Senate and House leaders was quickly followed by a general exodus of members hastening homeward for rest or the national political campaign.

While the closing saw the administration legislative plan mainly completed, some things wait to be continued at the winter session, notably the remainder of the President's programme of railroad legislation, which was partially enacted to prevent the threatened strike.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT.

In a formal statement President Wilson, speaking of the work of Congress, gave notice that the remainder of the railroad programme would be pressed at the new session. His statement was as follows:

"A very remarkable session of Congress has just closed, full, as all recent sessions of Congress have been, of helpful and humane legislation which constitutes contributions of capital importance to the defense, the economic progress and the whole life of the country.

"It is to be regretted that the session could not have continued long enough to complete the programme recently projected with respect to the accommodation of labor disputes between the railways and the employees, but it was not feasible in the circumstances to continue the session any longer and therefore only the most immediately pressing parts of the programme could be completed.

"The rest, it is agreed, has merely been postponed until it can be more maturely deliberated and perfected. I have every reason to believe that it is the purpose of the leaders of the two Houses immediately upon the reassembling of Congress to undertake this additional legislation. It is evident that the country should be relieved of the anxiety which must have been created by recent events with regard to the future accommodation of such disputes."

THREE BILLS GO OVER.

The immigration bill, the corrupt practices bill and the bill to permit combinations of American exporters to meet foreign competition abroad went over.

The closing hours of Congress were remarkably quiet. Only the presence of the President in his room near the Senate chamber served to attract interest to what would otherwise have been an uneventful ending of the eventful Congress.

Informal conferences of a few administration Senators and Congressmen turned after adjournment from thoughts of what had been achieved to contemplation of the future. No matter what happens in the November election, the Democratic Congress has three months of work ahead and an ambitious programme but no bitterness over the failure of some measures during the long session and the Democrats are proud of the legislative record.

RAILWAY LEGISLATION.

For the winter session the Democratic leaders look to the railroad legislation as the dominating feature. Before the strike emergency arose, Congress, aroused to the necessity for transportation legislation, had created a joint subcommittee of the Senate and House, headed by Senator Newlands, to undertake a study of all transportation problems, including the advisability of government ownership of public utilities and to recommend legislation at the next session. The committee already has set November 20 for the beginning of hearings on a wide range of subjects.

It has before it also the suggestions made by President Wilson, which Congress did not accept in its haste to assure prevention of the railroad strike. The railroad presidents and managers, labor leaders, shippers, investors and students of government all will be summoned to co-operate with the investigating committee in its work which is expected to result in the submission of important constructive legislation affecting transportation and attendant industrial problems of the country.

CONSERVATION NEXT.

In addition to the railroad situation, the subject next in importance which Congress will consider will be conservation of natural resources. Water power bills which failed at this session will be revived. So will measures for the conservation of mineral resources and for control of destructive flood waters. First on the December programme, however, will be the immigration bill with its literacy test, passed by the House, but not by the Senate at this session and the corrupt practices bill, to reform election methods which Senator Owen sought vainly to get on the statute books before adjournment. Representative Kitchin, majority leader of the House and chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who was not in accord with the administration on the national defense legislation, said before leaving the Capitol today:

"We have put through more constructive legislation than any other session of Congress. It has been accomplished with good feeling all around. There has been less bitterness and less filibustering in this session than in any previous session within my recollection. On the Democratic side we have had united action and the session has been eventful and epoch-making."

REPUBLICAN REJOINED.

The Republicans, pointing to the appropriations and authorizations for the future, mounting close to two billions, closed their part of the session reiterating charges of extravagance and waste.

President Wilson signed the emergency revenue bill at 9:25 o'clock in the presence of Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, and Representative Rainey of the Ways and Means Committee.

The President held a reception in his room as a line of Senators and Representatives passed through while he sat at the table signing bills. To Senator Simmons the President expressed gratification over the passage of the revenue bill and its many legislative features. He said, however, that he greatly regretted the failure of the Webb bill to provide for establishment of American collective selling agencies in foreign countries. Senator Simmons also expressed his regret that the measure had failed, but said it would be passed at the next session.

As the President was about to sign the twenty-dollar widows' pension bill, with Representative Ashbrook of Ohio, its sponsor, by his side, Senators Smith of Georgia and Bryan of Florida, who opposed it vigorously until the last minute, entered the President's room and Mr. Ashbrook asked them to witness the signature. The President smiled as the two Senators hurried away.

WILSON CONGRATULATED.

At 9:30 o'clock the Senate appointed Senators Kern and Smoot to notify the President that Congress was ready to adjourn unless he had some further communication to present. They were joined by Representatives Kitchin, Fitzgerald and Mann, the House committee, and the joint committee waited on the President at 9:35 a.m. The President congratulated the leaders on the opportunity for a "well-earned rest." Officially, he informed them that he had nothing further to communicate to the Congress. When they left the President's room the Chief Executive was joined by Secretary Lansing, who chatted with him as he continued to sign bills.

Senator Kern notified the Senate at 9:55 o'clock that the President had nothing further to communicate. Thereupon, Senator Nelson of Minnesota offered a resolution of thanks to the Vice-President for his impartial conduct in presiding over the Senate. The resolution was adopted, and the Vice-President thanked the Senate in a brief address. Thereupon, the Senate adjourned sine die, at 9:59 o'clock.

MARSHALL SPEAKING.

Vice-President Marshall, in his address to the Senate, said:

"When I assumed the duties of this office I thought it would be a terrible thing to keep silent, but the longer I stay here the more I think it is wiser to keep silent. We are about to leave here, some of us 'to point with pride' and others 'to view with alarm,' but I hope when we all have come back we will have forgotten the animosities of the campaign and will remember that we are good friends."

The usual hubbub characterized the closing moments in the House, after Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, had made a statement regarding appropriations. Mr. Fitzgerald said the world was ablaze and extraordinary steps had to be taken in the way of large expenditures for defense.

Representative Gillett of Massachusetts said that, "applying the Democrats' own standard and logic," the session just closed far surpassed in extravagance any predecessor.

WILSON LEAVES.

President Wilson left Washington at 1 o'clock for a stay which may extend until after election in November. After spending the night at Atlantic City he will motor to the summer White House, Shadow Lawn, at Long Branch, N. J., for an extended stay.

After spending an hour at the Capitol signing bills, he returned to the White House and attached his signature to many commissions and executive papers.

Just before Congress adjourned, Representative Gardner of Massachusetts introduced a resolution which he announced he would press at the winter session for Congressional investigation of organizations which, it is alleged, under foreign influence, have attempted to affect elections of Congressmen. He named the American embaRco conference and the American Commerce and Protective Committee among those he wanted investigated to disclose the source of their financial support and to determine whether they have violated the neutrality of the United States or any of the corrupt practices acts in connection with elections.

A bill creating a national park of about 2300 square miles of public land in Alaska, including Mt. McKinley, the highest mountain on the North American continent, was passed today by the Senate on motion of Senator Pittman. The park will constitute a game preserve, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior. The bill has passed the House.

Prodigal Outlays.

alone. The fact is that the appropriations for preparedness will not exceed $390,000,000, demonstrating that entirely outside of preparedness this Congress has made appropriations of approximately $200,000,000 more than any preceding Congress.

"Not only is the statement that additional revenue is needed for preparedness entirely misleading, but the fact is that wasteful and ill-advised appropriations for projects that were unnecessary, ill-considered and certainly not urgent, the creation of over 50,000 additional offices at an annual expense of some $40,000,000 and general extravagance in expenditures in all departments of the government, together with the failure of existing legislation passed under the present administration to provide sufficient revenue, even under normal conditions, place the responsibility distinctly on the party in power to devise ways and means to provide sufficient revenues for a treasury already facing a large deficit.

"Even with the additional taxes provided by the revenue law, it is declared that it will be necessary to take from the balance in the general fund nearly $70,000,000 to meet the requirement of greater disbursements. At the rate at which the general balance is disappearing there will be no general balance, but more likely a deficit at the end of the fiscal year. The general balance has recently been running below $30,000,000, obviously insufficient to meet the requirements of the $70,000,000 contemplated by the transfer for current disbursements. In other words, the treasury of the United States, by reason of reckless extravagance and improvident expenditure, is bankrupt, in that the revenues will fail to meet the expenditures. Moreover, notwithstanding the abhorrence which the Democratic party has expressed against borrowing money on account of the adverse effect of such borrowing in Cleveland's second administration, the party in power is now driven to openly declare its intention of issuing bonds on account of the mobilization of the National Guard and for other purposes, having been forced to this course as the only alternative to meet the needs of a depleted treasury.

"If Congress had exercised economy by curtailing or refusing appropriations for needless projects, or projects that could well wait, such as the nitrate plant, the land bank bill, shipping bill, flood control bill, government armorplate and other projects, it is safe to say that some $200,000,000 would have been saved during the fiscal year 1917. This amount, together with $140,000,000 which the treasury has lost from customs duties under the Underwood tariff law, or nearly $300,000,000, as some estimate, aggregates an amount more than sufficient to meet the authorized expenditures for preparedness during the fiscal year.

"But still more startling is the contemplation of the contracts authorized to which the government is pledged in addition to the actual appropriations. For navy increase, for fortifications, for river and harbor improvements, flood control and state aid for roads, nearly $700,000,000 has been authorized, and if to this we add the appropriations for 1917 we have a grand total of $2,347,127,699. This does not include expenditures which must be met sooner or later, such as the $25,000,000 for the Danish Islands, and other liabilities, such as the $30,000,000 which will possibly have to be refunded on certain imports, still further increasing the total to an aggregate that will astound the people of the country when they come to realize it. The reckless extravagance, carried on with a disregard of consequences which is simply appalling, has characterized the course of the majority party during the session of Congress just closed. Moreover, there has been an utter failure to recognise the needs of the country when we come to face the crisis which will be brought on before the close of the war in Europe."

PUBLIC DANCES HELD IN CHURCH

Houses of Worship Despoiled by the Mexicans.

Government Officials Wink at the Sacrilege.

Carranza's Intense Hatred of the Priesthood.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) Sept. 2.—Many of the Catholic church edifices of Mexico are being put to uses that are anything but sacred. In the beautiful city of Merida the government authorities are permitting the principal cathedral to fill the purpose of a public dance hall. Hundreds of churches in the cities and towns of the country have been temporarily abandoned as places of worship and are being used for various worldly purposes.

Much significance is attached here to the recent decree of the de facto government by which it brought into effect forgotten provisions of the so-called "laws of reform" that had for their original purpose the driving of the Catholic clergy from Mexico. It is stated that under the new decree the government assumes ownership of the rich gold and silver ornamentations of the churches and claims possession of all of the other property. Nominally, all of the church property in Mexico was taken over by the government many years ago, but as a matter of fact and to all intents and purposes the right to its possession by the clergy was not interfered with by President Porfirio Diaz.

HATES THE PRIESTS.

The antagonism of Gen. Venustiano Carranza toward the priesthood of the country is so intense that the Catholic church stands little chance of being restored to anything like its former position in Mexico during his regime. Hundreds of priests have been driven from the country during the last few years. In many communities where these representatives of the church were the real rulers of the people the parish churches have been closed or they are being put to other uses. In some instances the edifices are serving as places for holding undenominational schools; in other cases they are occupied as bodegas, or warehouses. Comparative little actual destruction or damage to church property has been committed and most of the edifices that are now closed or in other service can be easily restored to their former condition if the clergy is given back its former rights in the country.

How much wealth is invested in the Catholic churches of Mexico it is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy. The aggregate sum is almost fabulous in size. For centuries the masses have been contributing their daily mite towards erecting the magnificent and almost innumerable edifices that dot the country from one end to the other. The interior furnishings and ornamentations of some of these places of worship are of regal splendor and value, or at least, they were before the present revolutionary period set in. Many of the churches have been looted of their valuables during the last few years.

CLERICAL INFLUENCE.

It has long been a well-recognized fact in Mexico that the Catholic church controlled to a large extent the political affairs of the country and, according to the claim of Carranza, the influence of the clergy has been to the detriment of the republic and its people. Naturally, many people disagree with him on this question, but it is undoubtedly true that the church had to be reckoned with in every political step taken in this country since the days of the Spanish Conquistadores. It is also apparent that the masses of the people look more to the church for their government than they do to whatever political power that may be occupying the seat of government in the City of Mexico.

President Diaz was not a Catholic, but his wife belonged to that religious faith and her influence in behalf of the church was apparent during her husband's regime. The "law of reform" was observed by the clergy in only a sort of perfunctory way. The authorities winked at its many violations.

It was not until Francisco Villa and Gen. Carranza came into military control of a large portion of the country that the priesthood began to feel the effects of the enmity that had long been growing against them. Many of them saved their lives by fleeing to the United States. No invitation for the return of these refugees has as yet been extended by Carranza, and it is said that none is likely to be.

It is predicted here that whatever political element brings about the overthrow of the Carranza government will be found to have the backing of the Catholic clergy of Mexico. The Legalista party is said to count much on this support.

Easy.

TRAINMEN'S HOURS ARE NOT LONG.

NO SUCH GRIND AS IN OTHER INDUSTRIES.

Except in Special Cases the Railroad Employees Work Less than Eight Hours and may be Paid for Ten Hours, and There's no Justification in Present Demands.

[Railway Age Gazette:] Assume that the enginemen and trainmen were actually attempting to get an eight-hour day and not an increase in wages by the threatened strike of the four brotherhoods. Would they even than have any justification for their demands? Eight hours of good hard work, even though split into two periods with a certain length of time off for a midday meal, may be as much work as a man ought to be asked to do in twenty-four hours if he is a highly skilled mechanic. It is not nearly as much work as the farmer, small tradesman, station agent or the division superintendent does. However, for sake of argument allow that the demand of a skilled laborer for only eight hours' work in each twenty-four is reasonable. Do the trainmen now work more than eight hours? As a matter of fact, except in exceptional cases they do not. A record of the actual hours of work of a head brakeman showed that he reported for duty at 9 a.m. From 9:30 to 9:30 he took out the engine and coupled it to the train; from 9:50 to 10 he got train ready, from 10:50 to 10:55 cut off the engine and took water at A; 11:20 to 11:30, helped set off cars at B; 12:40 to 12:45, coupled and uncoupled engine and took water at C; 1 to 1:10, helped set cars at D; 2 to 2:06, coupled and uncoupled engine and took water at E; 4:40 to 4:50, cut off the engine at the terminal. This was the sum total of his day's labor.

This is not a picked case, but a typical case. The man actually worked an hour and five minutes, was on duty seven hours and fifty minutes, and was paid for ten hours.

HOW THE PRINTERS WORK.

The printing trade in large cities like New York and Chicago is entirely under the domination of the unions. It admittedly employs well-paid skilled labor. The eight-hour day, with time and a half pay for overtime, is compulsory. The linotype machine man, however, who goes to work at 8:30 finds copy at his machine and is actually at work in ninety-nine cases out of 100 before 8:35. It is safe to say that in ninety-nine cases out of 100 and in ninety-nine days out of 100 working days the linotype machine man is not interrupted in his continuous work for a total of twenty minutes from the time he begins work at 8:30 until he quits for lunch at 12:30. The same is true in the afternoon. In his eight-hour day, therefore, he is working at least seven hours and twenty minutes. The same is true of the compositor. In the steel trade the skilled laborer is actually at work more than 80 per cent. of the time that he is on duty. The same is true in the factory. There is a steady grind which may possibly be a justification for a limitation of hours.

NOT SO FOR TRAINMEN.

There is no such corresponding grind in the work of trainmen. The trainman's job is far more analogous in this resepct to that of a traveling salesman than to that of a printer or steel worker. The traveling salesman may not be actually engaged in selling a customer more than four or five hours out of each twenty-four hours, but unlike the trainman is on duty often twelve or fourteen hours and in a sense is on duty the whole twenty-four hours each day that he is on the road. To take another example, how much justice would there be in sailors asking for an eight-hour day and pay at the rate of time and a half for all the remainder of the time that they were on shipboard, exclusive of their watch below? As a matter of fact, even in their watch below they are subject to call at any time.

The fact of the matter is that a trainman would not be working eight hours a day if he were on duty sixteen. In other words, even if the trainmen were asking for an eight-hour day, which they are not, there would be no justification for such a demand.

A Big Rattler.

[New York Sun:] One of the largest rattlesnakes ever seen in that section was killed near Ellisville, Miss., by A. B. Walters. It was six feet seven inches in length and twelve and one-half inches in circumference and had fifteen rattles. It was stuffed and brought to town and put on exhibition.

Summary.

BULLET SEQUEL OF SEPARATION.

Realty Man Wounds Wife and then Kills Himself.

Plea for Reconciliation is Prelude to Tragedy.

Shot Strikes Woman's Head but Wound is Slight.

When his wife refused to listen to a plea for reconciliation, Charles C. Palmer, 40 years old, a Redondo Beach real estate dealer, early this morning attempted to kill the wife and after wounding her, sent a bullet crashing through his own brain. Mrs. Palmer was but slightly wounded, the bullet striking her a glancing blow on the head. Palmer died instantly. The body was removed to the Bresee morgue.

According to the story related by Mrs. Palmer to the police, she separated from her husband five weeks ago and came to Los Angeles to live. She took an apartment at No. 257 West Fortieth place, the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Murray. She proceeded to plan life anew. She notified her relatives that life with her husband was impossible longer. The six other children remained with the father at the beach.

Late last evening the husband appeared at Mrs. Palmer's home, during the absence of Mrs. Murray. He carried a large bag of apples and offered one of them to his wife. She refused to partake of the fruit or to discuss plans for a reconciliation. After some discussion Palmer drew a revolver and fired twice at his wife. The first bullet went wild and the second whipped across the woman's forehead, sending a crimson stream down over her face.

Stunned, she lay on the floor as though dead and Palmer at once placed the gun to his temple and ended his life with one shot. Neighbors heard the explosions and summoned the police. When the ambulance arrived the surgeons found Mrs. Palmer vainly trying to staunch the flow of blood from her husband's wounds; but his life had gone.

At the Receiving Hospital Mrs. Palmer refused to state why she had separated from her husband. "He was bad in some ways and good in others. I simply found life impossible with him," she said.

NEGLECT CHARGED.

C. B. Linton, a Long Beach jeweler, is charged in a complaint issued by Deputy District Attorney Joos yesterday with failing to provide for his wife and three children. Mrs. Linton, an attractive young woman, called on Mr. Joos yesterday, showing the effects of the suffering she has endured.

VON HINDENBURG ON WEST FRONT.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 8 (via London, Sept. 9, 5:15 a.m.)—According to Berlin dispatches received here Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, the new German Chief of Staff, has arrived for the first time on the western battle front and will inspect all the principal positions on the western lines in company with Crown Prince Frederick William.

TENNIS AT CINCINNATI.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—With William M. Johnston, Clarence J. Griffin, Roland Roberts, W. E. Davis and Ella Fottrell of California, making up the western representation, and Dean Mathey of New Jersey and W. F. McElroy of Pittsburgh, representing the East, the annual tri-State tennis tournament will open here tomorrow.

The entry lists had been held open until after midnight to receive the possible entry of National Champion Williams, who had promised to participate if his affairs could be so arranged.

The matches tomorrow will be devoted chiefly to contests between the hosts of local and Ohio players, while the California and eastern stars will put in their appearance on Monday, when Kumagae and Mikami, the Japanese experts, will play both singles and doubles exhibitions with Johnston and Griffin.

MARRON FILES A CONTEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Joseph E. Marron, Assemblyman from the Thirteenth District, who was defeated by nine votes for the Republican nomination for his office at the recent primary election, today filed a contest to the nomination of Clarence W. Morris, the successful candidate. Irregularities in counting are alleged.

Quaker Quips.

[Philadelphia Ledger:] Many a married man's best friend is his wife's husband.

A girl would rather be told she is passing fair than that she is already past.

A pessimist is a man who always buys a return ticket on the road to success.

Fortunate is the man whose troubles are not worth the time it takes to tell them.

You never can tell. An innocent lie sometimes does less harm than a deliberate truth.

It isn't necessarily because a girl loves her enemies that she invites them all to her wedding.

AMERICAN FLAG; DANISH VESSELS.

Twenty-two-million-dollar Fleet in Pacific.

Will Operate in the Lumber and General Cargo Trade.

Fourteen Ships Already Under Contract on the Coast.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Sept. 8.—According to the Seattle Times, a $22,000,000 fleet to be built in Pacific Coast ports for A. O. Anderson & Co. of Copenhagen, Denmark, will be placed under the American flag and operated in the lumber and general cargo trade from the Northwest. Seattle has been chosen as headquarters for the Norwegian house's Puget Sound and British Columbia business. Portland is to be headquarters for its Columbia River operations.

Fourteen vessels already have been contracted for in Pacific Coast yards by Anderson & Co., including the schooner Elsie, recently launched in Tacoma. Of the fourteen contracts, eight call for steel steamships, two of 10,000 tons cargo capacity and six of 8000 tons cargo capacity. The remaining six vessels, including the Elsie, are to be auxiliary-powered schooners, a new type of carrier.

Contracts for three of the steel ships were awarded some time ago to Seattle shipbuilding plants. The Anderson company is preparing to place additional orders for ships that will bring the total amount involved up to $22,000,000.

VILLA MOVEMENTS STILL UNCONFIRMED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HEADQUARTERS PUNITIVE EXPEDITION (Mex.) Sept. 8.—Border reports concerning Villa's move through the Santa Clara Canyon toward Laguna have not been confirmed by investigation, Gen. J. J. Pershing, commander of the American punitive expedition, announced today. Gen. Pershing returned to field headquarters after completing inspection of the American camps in Mexico.

"I am delighted with conditions my inspection trip disclosed," he said.

"The American troops in Mexico are in the pink of condition, and their equipment, morale, ordnance and transportation communication leave nothing to be desired."

CANTU LIFTS BAN ON ORIENTAL LABOR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CALEXICO (Cal.) Sept. 8.—Restrictions against the entry of oriental laborers into Lower California were raised today by Esteban Cantu, military Governor, it was announced, when Chinese and Japanese agents were sent to Sonora to bring in from 500 to 1000 Chinese and Japanese to work in the cotton fields. Cantu issued last spring an order prohibiting oriental laborers coming into Lower California.

REVENUE LAW REMOVES GRAPE GROWERS' FEARS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—When the terms of the new revenue bill became known here today representative grape growers and wine manufacturers pronounced it a victory for the viticulturists in that it lifted the burden that the emergency wine tax imposed last year on the grape industry in this State.

The details of the administration bill were anxiously awaited, as on the method of applying the new rates, it was stated, would depend largely the benefits the bill appeared to promise.

The new wine and brandy taxes schedule received today from Washington by J. J. Scott, collector of internal revenue, was as follows:

"Dry wines up to 14 per cent. alcohol, 4 cents per gallon; sweet wines, from 14 to 21 per cent. alcohol, 10 cents per gallon; sweet wines, 21 to 24 per cent. alcohol, 25 cents per gallon; sweet wines above 24 per cent. alcohol, $1.10 per gallon; brandy used in the fortification of sweet wines, 10 cents per gallon; natural sparkling wine or champagne, 3 cents per half pint; artificially carbonated wines, 1½ cents per half pint; liquors or cordials containing sweet wines, 1½ cents per half pint."

Clarence J. Wetmore, president of the State Viticultural Commission, said:

"The new measure puts the California grape industry on its feet again. We expect the law to be permanent and grape growers can now go ahead with the assurance that they are not going to be ruined by Federal taxes."

Longevity.

GREATER AVERAGE AGE FOR THE CALIFORNIANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 8.—Each year that passes finds residents of California attaining a greater average age and living longer, according to the State Board of Health, which says that "California decedents are older every year." In a report published today the board says that in 1915 the average age of decedents in the State was 51.8 years, which is considerably above the average of the last few years.

At the same time the board declares that the medium age was virtually the same for both sexes in 1915, although much higher for men than for women in 1914. In 1914 the medium age—half being older and half younger—was 49.6, in 1913 49.4, in 1912 49.2 and in 1911 48.8, thus indicating that Californians reach an average greater age.

"The increase was particularly great from 1914 to 1915," says the board, "and appeared for every geographical division in the State and for about all the leading causes of death." The board, while stating that "Californians live longer every year," fails to analyze the causes. It contents itself with stating results.

TARGET REGISTER BASIS OF SUIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Commander M. St. Clair Ellis, U.S.N., was made the defendant today in a suit brought against him in the Superior Court here by C. C. Lentile of Norfolk, Va., a former gunner's mate, who charged that Ellis defrauded him out of a half-interest in the patent on a self-registering target of which Lentile claimed to be the inventor.

The target, adopted by the United States government, is now being manufactured in this city.

According to the complaint, Commander Ellis entered into an agreement September 9, 1906, whereby Ellis was to obtain patents on the target, place it on the market and share profits with Lentile. The complaint alleged that Ellis obtained the patents, incorporated a company here, sold stock to a number of navy officers, has been disposing of targets and has refused to give an accounting.

The court issued an order today restraining Commander Ellis from disposing of any of his interest in the target and set September 22 for hearing on the injunction.

Commander Ellis said tonight.

"Every man who obtains a patent must expect a certain amount of litigation. Except to say there is nothing in Lentile's charges, I do not care to discuss the matter."

"This is Just the Beginning," Says Wilson Appointee.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, attorney and chairman of the Federal Industrial Relations Commission, has contributed $250 to the defense of the five suspects charged with murder in connection with the bomb explosion here recently, according to an announcement made by Robert Minor of the International Workers' Defense League, which is handling the prisoners' cases. The trial of Warren K. Billings, one of the suspects, begins Monday.

"This is just a beginning," Walsh said in a note accompanying the check, according to Minor. Contributions have also been received, Minor said, from several local unions of the International Workers' Defense League aided in the defense of the suspects in the Los Angeles dynamiting case, and have helped defend members of the Industrial Workers of the World in various cities.

Walsh was mentioned as a prospective attorney for the defense of the local bomb case when news of their arrests. Thomas Mooney and his wife, Rena Mooney, said at the time they would consider no other attorney, but later changed their decision.

Border Commissioners Have Exchange of Ideas.

Get a Better Understanding of Objects Sought.

Two Supplementary Lines of Troops Suggested.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Sept. 8.—At the resumption here today of the conferences of the Mexican-American joint commission seeking a permanent settlement of the international difficulties, it was regarded as probable the Mexican delegates would make a formal request for the withdrawal of Gen. Pershing's punitive expedition from Mexican territory. Papers bearing directly upon this phase of the situation were studied yesterday by the Mexician commissioners.

Plans relative to the maintenance of order along the border were expected today. With Franklin K. Lane, heading the American delegation, presiding, the commissioners engaged in discussion, which was expected to result in progress toward better understanding of the objects in view.

STATEMENT ISSUED.

The following statement was issued:

"This morning's session was devoted to consideration of plans relating the mutual protection of the border. It was explained by the members of the Mexican commission that it was their desire that some plan be devised which would avoid all possible justification for the recurrence of such incidents as that at Columbus and would insure so far as was possible the protection to the border. To this end the American commissioners sought to know what plan of co-operation on the part of the United States if any would most help Mexico in the pursuit down of bandits along the border.

"Consideration was given to plans already taken under advisement by Scott and Obregon and to the [illegible] of forming a line of troops [illegible] each side of the border which would supplement each other and a [illegible] agreement as to co-operation.

"The excitement in Mexico aroused by the presence of the American troops by their long march southward was said to have been produced by the size of the force and especially by the presence of artillery."

SCOTT-OBREGON PLAN.

The Scott-Obregon plan contemplated co-operation between Mexican and American troops in Mexico in pursuit of bandits, but carried the promise that American troops would be withdrawn gradually as order was restored. Gen. Obregon proposed a system under which the troops of each country would maintain patrols along its own border, exchanging information as to bandit movements to facilitate the restoration of order. This is believed to be the second plan referred to in the commission's statement.

GREAT HOMECOMING AT THE FAIR CITY.

ANGELENOS AND OLD-TIME SAN DIEGANS MEET.

Memories of Early Days Renewed in Stirring Fashion at Banquet. Many of the Guests Stay Over for Admission Day Celebration at Exposition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 8.—As a welcome for the Los Angeles residents, one-time citizens of San Diego, who came back once more to mingle with the friends of the old days the Pioneer Society of San Diego, together with the old-timers and the young old-timers, gathered tonight at the Cristobal Cafe at the exposition, celebrating with one of the most memorable entertainments ever given there.

The Angelenos were the guests of honor. About 450 attended the banquet. Songs of the late 70's and early 80's were sung during the dinner. Songs such as "Juanita," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Suwanee Ribber," "Home Again," "Darling Nellie Gray," took the old people back to the days of their sparkling youth and choruses were sung with as much vim and vigor as then. There was no formality and the men and women who years ago stopped singing, suddenly found their voices. George W. Marston, the toastmaster, introduced the speakers, among them prominent Angelenos. Mr. Marston in speaking of Los Angeles said:

"I am glad the Los Angeles people are with us. We give them warm, hearty welcome. We will never be able to repay the debt we owe to the people of Los Angeles who have helped us so generously and so magnanimously in our exposition year."

Mrs. C. Q. Stanton, prominent in Los Angeles society and one-time resident of San Diego, responded to her introduction by asking the San Diegans what better evidence Los Angeles could give of her true-neighborliness than that she had loaned them Mr. and Mrs. G. Aubrey Davidson. She spoke of the various expositions held in the United States, beginning with the Philadelphia exposition in 1876 and referred to this achievement of San Diego as the interpretation of a poet's dream.

W. W. Bowers, the builder of the old Horton house, gave the next address. Present also was M. A. Felsenheld, the first storekeeper of the city, who had come from Columbus, O., especially to be present on this occasion. Another speaker was John P. Young of the San Francisco Chronicle, who began his newspaper work in San Diego. Hon. William Kettner told of the early days of '85, when he landed in Los Angeles and grubstaked a mine in the San Jacinto Mountains and finally, how he drove a street car in San Diego in order to have something to eat.

Philip Morse took the homecomers back to the old days. Judge W. J. Hunsaker of Los Angeles was another welcome speaker. Honored guests from the Angel City included Judge and Mrs. Hunsaker and the Misses Hunsaker; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woolwine, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Trippett and three sons; Waldo Chase, well-known pianist; Monty Lewis and Mme. Schumann-Heink, who divides her allegiance between the two cities.

Other speakers were Judge Thomas J. Hayes, G. Aubrey Davidson and Mayor Capps.

About fifty automobile parties came from Los Angeles especially to attend this dinner and will stay over for the festivities of Admission Day.

E. Palmer Tucker Gives Advice to Redlands Merchants Regarding Demands of Twentieth Century Business; Newspaper Space Necessary.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 8.—E. Palmer Tucker of a piano company of Los Angeles told the merchants of this city at their monthly luncheon, held in the grillroom of the Elks' clubhouse that judicious advertising was the modern twentieth century way to commercial success.

Mr. Tucker said: "What kind of advertising should business men do? I would say unhesitatingly that merchants situated as you are should advertise in newspapers."

He then cited John Wanamaker as authority for the wisdom of the policy of investing the major share of advertising funds in the buying of newspaper space.

In closing his talk Mr. Tucker said: "A small space in a newspaper, used with regularity to give the news of your store, for what you have to sell is news, will pay you every time. Nobody in business can afford to be a quitter. Do some advertising. Don't content yourselves with a thirty-day campaign, but fix up a twelve months' programme and stick to it. It means ultimate success if you follow up your advertising. The best that advertising can do is to bring people to your store, it is up to you to sell the goods."

Arrest Actor in Make-up on Way to Picture Studio on Theft Charge. Is Reputed Author of "How to Steal an Automobile."

George A. Kelley, moving-picture actor and reputed author of several articles on "How to Steal an Automobile," which were published locally, was arrested yesterday on a charge of having stolen an automobile from R. J. Glenn, No. 175 West Forty-first street. He had used in the alleged theft the same technique recommended in the articles as a safe and sure method of obtaining an automobile without cost.

He was taken into custody at Eighth and Broadway by Detectives Erven, Powell and Hickox, while he was seated in the automobile that had been posted as stolen in the files of the police department.

Kelley, who, the police say, served a term in San Quentin for stealing an automobile, said the machine had been given him by a friend. When arrested he was on his way to a moving-picture studio and was made up for the part of an Apache Indian. He is charged with grand larceny.

BATTLE FOR BOTTLES.

Business of Carting Beer and Whisky Flasks in Long Beach Becomes Worth Fighting for Even Though They are Dry. Big Money in It.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 8.—A battle is being staged by two large junk concerns for the beer-bottle collection business of Long Beach which, day by day, grows to greater proportions. It is stated that more than 3000 beer and whisky bottles are collected here every week.

One junk company, which has its headquarters on East Fourth street, is secretly circulating petitions among the residents near Fourth street and American avenue, asking the City Commissioners to oust the Long Beach Junk Company from its place of business at that corner.

From its vantage point on a prominent street corner the latter company is better intrenched for the collection of the beer bottles which, it is admitted, are collected chiefly from the district south of Fourth street. The East Fourth-street bottle collectors seek to oust the Long Beach concern from their embottled trenches.

It is stated that the beer bottle collection business has become so important that entire carloads of empty bottles are sent away from this city to the breweries and bottle wholesalers of Los Angeles.

How does the beer, wine and whisky which once filled these hosts of bottles get into this city? This query is one which is furrowing the brow of the Chief of Police. Long Beach is supposed to be the dryest town in this part of the State, and yet the empty bottle records show it to be far from dry.

The officials are of the opinion that the "suit case brigade" brings most of the "ticker" into this city. This method of transportation of the 3.07 water cannot be interfered with by the police providing that the contents of the bottles are not assimilated on a public street or in a public place.

"WAR RUINS BUSINESS THERE," SAYS SR. FORTIN.

Financier Believes Steamship Line from Los Angeles to Central America Should be Profitable Owing to Deplorable Conditions at Home.

Daniel Fortin, president of the Banko Commercio de Honduras, and perhaps the most widely known financier in Latin America, arrived at the Alexandria last night. He is on a combined business and pleasure trip and expects to remain in the United States several months.

Sr. Fortin has been active in politics in Honduras for some time. He was the Honduran representative to the Pan-American financial congress held at Washington, D. C., last year. In addition to his bank connections he owns a large banana plantation, is the head of the exporting firm which bears his name and is financially interested in several large silver mines.

"The war has so shut off our imports that business in Honduras is at a standstill," he said last night. "Other Central American countries are worse off than Honduras, however, because of their more or less unstable currency. The present is the time for American capitalists to invest in Honduran securities, as very favorable concessions can be obtained."

Sr. Fortin states a steamship line from Los Angeles to Central America should be very profitable, since at present there are weeks at a time that exports are piled on the docks awaiting the arrival of an itinerant boat. The merchants have great difficulty securing manufactured wares, and since there are no factories in Honduras prices are sky high.

THINKS WIFE'S SKULL FRACTURED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—Walter M. Williams, whose bride, Bessie M. Williams, aged 19, died May 20, believes that there is a strong chance that his wife met with foul play, and did not die of acute nephritis, as specified in the burial permit. He has therefore applied to the health officer for a permit to exhume the body and have an autopsy performed. He has received the necessary permission.

Williams believes that his bride sustained a fracture of the skull, and that this injury caused her death. How she came to suffer the hurt, if a fracture killed her, is a question which the local police will be called upon to unravel. A corps of well-known Los Angeles physicians will be called upon to perform the autopsy.

S. S. S. Removes the Cause.

Specialists in Catarrh troubles have agreed that it is an infection of the blood. The laboratories of the S.S.S. Co. at Atlanta, have proven it. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the Catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold on contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy, S.S.S., discovered over 50 years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S.S.S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long-standing case, be sure to write the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga., for free expert medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. They will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh, after consistent treatment with S.S.S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. Take S. S. S. at once.

Track and Field.

E. THOMPSON WINS HURDLES.

FRED WATKINS TAKES SECOND IN POLE VAULT.

Yerle Murray Runs Third in Low Hurdles in Junior National Track Championship—Henry Williams and Walt Hemmel Upbold Northwestern Honors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEWARK (N. J.) Sept. 8.—The junior championships were held here today under very poor weather conditions. A heavy thunder shower interrupted the meet soon after the start, making the track very heavy. Four entries scored eleven points, giving the Los Angeles Athletic Club third place. Earl Thompson loafed through the high hurdles, easily winning the gold medal in 16s. flat. Fred Watkins took second in the pole vault, but was badly handicapped from the heavy rain which came during this event. Karl Nippe, our walker, was badly outclassed in the mile walk, taking fifth place. The long train ride across the continent proved his undoing, as he was out of condition and did not show the form he displayed in San Diego two weeks ago.

Yerle Murray, still weak from an abscess of the ear, contracted on the train East, took third in the low hurdles, which was won by F. Loomis of the Chicago Athletic Club in 25 1-5s. (on a straightaway.) Yerle ran the low barriers close to 24 1-5s. in the San Diego meet on a curved track. He was unable to practice until yesterday. His race today should put him in better shape for the national championships tomorrow.

Williams, the Spokane flyer, was not in shape, and only took third in the century. Hummel, the crack 440-yard hurdler from Portland, easily won his event, creating a new junior record of 54 2-5s. Hoesalock, another Coast boy, took second. The six Coast entries made a very creditable showing today, and are counted on to annex several points tomorrow in America's premier track classic.

Kelly and Bagnard, ineligible for the junior championships, rested today. They are both in the best of condition and are expected to win in their favored events. The New York Athletic Club, with an exceptionally large entry, is picked by all the experts to carry away the national championships title tomorrow.

WALTER COX CELEBRATES.

DRIVES BUSY'S LASSIE TO EASY VICTORY.

Grand Circuit Meet Closes with Three Races—Dolly Dixon Runs Second—Diumeter Wins Two-twelve Pace Easily, Establishing New Track Record.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARTFORD (Ct.) Sept. 8.—The Grand Circuit meeting at Charter Oak Park closed today with three events over the new half-mile track. All were won in straight heats. Walter Cox, one of the circuit's star drivers, celebrated his forty-eighth birthday anniversary by winning the 2:30 trot with Busy's Lassie never being pressed at any stage. Dolly Dixon finished a good second in each heat. The Hartford Road driver's club special was not ready for the number of breaks made by the horses entered and Frisco Worthy, a bay gelding by San Francisco, outclassed the rest of the field. Tommy O, with a stand for third money, lost by being distanced in the last heat, for running.

Diumeter led the field a fast chase in the third race, the 2:12 pace, going into the lead right away and turning a quarter over the half-mile ring in 31 1-4 seconds, the fastest first quarter of the meeting. Murphy was satisfied to keep Altawood a length and a half behind, and the rest were not equal to this effort. Wilbur S. was distanced in the second heat, when he broke in the last half.

Diumeter, with 2:08 1-4 to his credit in the first two heats, made a new track record for the half-mile ring, lowering the mark of 2:10 1-4 set last Tuesday by Azora Axworthy.

Once Again.

ANGELS POUND IN A VICTORY.

Ryan Takes Second Game of this Series.

Bobby Davis Proves to be Real Slugger.

Ninth Inning Rally Makes Shaky Situation.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Aside from hammering out fourteen hits, scoring seven runs and going into first place, the Los Angeles athletes had a very poor day. They overlooked wrecking the grand stand and bleachers and office furniture, which was very careless of them.

Score: Los Angeles, 7; Vernon, 4.

The home guard started bright and early, counting two in the first, one each in the second and fourth and making a final clean-up of three in the eighth. Bobby Davis, in whom every manager in the league except Frank Chance had lost confidence, was a tremendous factor in the conflict. Bobby was again hitting everything that bore the slightest resemblance to a baseball. He combed four singles in as many trips to the bingle bin, and drove no less than three runs across the pan.

Two weeks ago any club in the league could have purchased Davis for a sum estimated to be not more than $10. All of them passed up the chance and, having failed to grasp the opportunity, the fans are expecting to hear a few squeals and bleats. Aside from his sensational work at the bat, Davis ended the game with a sensational stop and throw in the ninth when the Los Angeles boat was rocking dangerously.

The change from a hopeless tailender to a leader seems to have brought out every ounce of his latent energy and ability in Davis. Threats made before yesterday's game to "get him" did not seem to deter him from doing his duty as far as could be observed.

BACK OF BOB.

"I've been told that I'm going to have my legs cut off before the game is over," Davis told Chance. "What do you want me to do?"

"Don't start anything, but if anybody else starts a battle you go in and win it. See? What's more, I'm right back of you, kid."

"That's the kind of a guy that I like to play for," muttered Bobby with a satisfied grin.

The fans improved on the attendance of Thursday, which was a record-breaker for the past few years. Including the unwashed kids in the left-field bleachers, there was a coupon of bugs drawn two-thirds of the way around the amphitheater.

The game was scheduled as a personal combat between Jack Ryan and Art Fromme, but before it was over each manager was able to provide positions for two pitchers.

Fromme, after being touched for four runs in the early innings, settled down later. He was yanked for a pinch hitter, and in the eighth the Angels got to Ellis Johnson for three scratch hits. These, with a walk and a regular he-blow, netted three more runs.

Jack Ryan aged perceptibly in the ninth, when he was overcome by four runs. Up to that time he had the Hampats walking a straight line, the same leading from the bench to the plate and back again. He had turned them back with four infield hits, fanning no less than nine in his odd moments.

NEAR DOWNFALL.

Too much prosperity came near causing Ryan's downfall, and did result in his retirement. That seven-run lead made things look entirely too soft for him.

"Now because you're out in front, don't let down," Chance admonished when Jack answered the gong in the ninth. These words did not sink in and the P. L.'s worst fears came near being realized.

Jack tried the experiment of throwing the ball with nothing on it except a wet spot. A blast of Fonte, a passed ball, a bum throw by Boles and some poor fielding on Ryan's part had him in trouble up to his earlobes almost before you could bat an eye. He was finally yanked to let Standridge dispose of the last two men with runners on second and third. This Vernon outburst gave a layer of excitement to a game which up to that time had been too lopsided to be particularly interesting. McGaffigan's work was an enlightening feature. He handled eleven chances, and many of them "impossible."

SUCCESSFUL OFFENSE.

Los Angeles started an early and successful offensive. Ellis, the second bloke up, singled to right. Wolter whaled a single to right, Rube reaching third on a perfect hit-and-run. Rube scored on a double steal, Wolter going to third when Mitze squirted the pill ten feet over Risberg. Capt. Beef Koerner, better known as "Ole Reliable," swatted a safety to left, Harry homing along to the plate. Schultz filed to Mattick.

Los Angeles netted two stolen bases and a run in the second. Hits by McLarry and Davis and an error by Risberg did the business. After that Mitze got the range and permitted no further liberties.

McLarry singled again in the fourth, scoring on a safe drive by Davis, following a sacrifice by Boles.

Griggs, batting for Fromme in the eighth, was unable to accomplish anything. Ellis Johnson had disposed of the first two men in the eighth, when Koerner beat out a slow bounder to McGaffigan. Schultz and McLarry came through with other infield hits, which filled the bases. Johnson passed Boles, forcing in a run. Davis then up and swatted him for his fourth hit, sending two more across. McGaffigan mitted Ryan's pop-up.

SHAKY NINTH.

Gleichmann opened the ninth with a ground that Koerner stopped. The latter could make no play. A passed ball put Gloomy Gus on second. Ryan whiffed Risberg. September fireworks were then in order. Bates and Daley singled cleanly. One run across, Mattick hit to center and another came in. Mattick swiped second, Boles making a wild throw that let Daley across. McGaffigan singled, counting Mattick, and the crowd began to take notice. Mitze hit the ball directly at Ryan.

Jack had a double play mapped out before him. In the intense excitement he never touched the grounder, and McLarry could not get the ball in time to retire anybody. Ryan might have worked out his own salvation, and objected to being derricked, but Chance approved a safety first policy and sent Baskridge to the rescue. Callahan, batting for Johnson, was thrown out by McLarry, runners advancing to second and third. Two strikes had been registered on Doane when he rifled a grounder toward center. Davis sped over behind second, snatched up the pill and whipped the swift Doane out at first with a throw that stamps him as the iron-armed kid.

GIANTS STOP THE PHILLIES.

Defeat Champs by Nine to Three Score.

Alexander Pounded Hard by New York.

Dave Bancroft Proves a Sensation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—New York stopped Philadelphia's winning streak here today by easily defeating the league champions, 9 to 3, in the first game of what was to have been a double-header. The game was terminated by a severe rainstorm while Philadelphia was at bat in the ninth inning. The second game was called off on account of rain and two games will be played tomorrow.

Alexander, the pitching star of the Phillies, was hit very hard, the Giants making fourteen hits in seven innings. The Philadelphia fielding also was poor. Bancroft starred for the champions with a home run and two singles in three times at bat. The score:

Family Rift.

HUSBAND ABSENT, SUES HIS MOTHER.

ALIENATION CHARGE MADE BY WIFE OF FEW MONTHS.

Asks Fifty Thousand Dollars Damages Because, She Alleges, Her Spouse's Parents "Persuaded, Enticed and Abducted" Him from Her.

Charging her mother-in-law with "wickedly, maliciously and wilfully alienating and destroying" the affections of her husband, Frederick William Mitchell, Mary Mitchell yesterday, through her attorney, William M. Morse, Jr., filed suit against Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, the husband's mother, for $50,000 damages.

On her wedding day, March 7, Mary Mitchell was the "happiest bride in the world." She adored her young husband and he loved her. They were happy, she says in her complaint, until her mother-in-law, she alleges, began to "entice and persuade" her husband away from her.

In the complaint she says that while she was living happily with her husband, enjoying his affection and support, protection and respect, the elder Mrs. Mitchell, wrongfully intending to injure her, began her alleged campaign to destroy the husband's affection, and that she illegally "persuaded, enticed and abducted" him away from her.

She says had it not been for her mother-in-law's action, she would still have the love, society, aid and support of her husband, but his mother has brought about an estrangement between the two.

The young people were married at Whittier and spent their honeymoon days at San Diego. It is said the mother, who is wealthy, opposed her son's marriage. Since the separation the young bride, who had heretofore been shielded from the world, has had to seek a position in a telephone office to earn her living. She is now making her home at the Oceanic Hotel, Venice. Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, the mother-in-law, resides in a handsome home at No. 1714 South Western avenue. Young Mr. Mitchell is said to have gone East to take a post-graduate course at college.

GILES FUNERAL.

Interment of Well-known Los Angeles Business Man in Hollywood Cemetery this Afternoon — Widow Survives Him.

Funeral services for Edgar B. Giles, prominent realty man of this city, formerly of Chicago and Kansas City, Mo., who died early Wednesday morning of heart failure, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Bresee Bros. chapel. Interment will be at Hollywood Cemetery.

Mr. Giles had been a resident of Los Angeles for four years, having come here from Kansas City, where he was also engaged in the realty business. He was for several years one of the prominent real estate men of Chicago. Upon his arrival here he formed, with W. P. Thatcher, the Giles & Thatcher Company, which organization was later broken by Mr. Giles becoming vice-president and general manager of the W. J. Pearson Company.

The latter post Mr. Giles occupied until a year ago, when he became a member of H. W. Charlton & Co. He had made during his business life an extensive study of ninety-nine-year leases, and was looked upon as being one of the authorities on that subject in the United States. He leaves the widow, Mrs. Anna L. Giles. Mr. Giles was 57 years of age. He passed away at the Hotel Cordova, following a fifteen-minute illness.

LEAKS AT CITY HALL.

Some of Them are Located in Roof of North Annex and Board of Public Works Asks for Appropriation for Plugging Them.

There are leaks at the City Hall. Some are going to be repaired, but not all.

The Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council to appropriate $200 for the re-roofing of the north City Hall Annex. During last winter's rains water leaked through that roof and the ceiling in the office of Purchasing Agent Baker was ruined.

Assistant Custodian James Smith has investigated the roof and finds it guilty. He reported to the Board of Public Works that he thinks it would be in the best interests of the city to have all the leaks stopped.

PETITION DENIED.

Court of Appeals Refuses to Review in Land Case.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday denied a petition for a writ of review, in the action brought by Robert R. Soper against the Superior Court of Ventura county.

The matter originally grew out of a suit brought by Soper against Francisco H. Domingues in the Ventura county courts, in which Judge Robert M. Clarke found that Soper was the owner of a homestead. Later Superior Judge Wm. P. Rogers refused to restrain Domingues pending a hearing of the case involving further the question of ownership of the land. The Supreme Court of Appeal would not review its authority as against Judge Rogers.

THIEF TAKES TIME.

Eight-day Clock is His Only Silver Loft.

Police detectives early today started a search for an eight-day clock valued at $12, the property taken by a burglar from the residence of Mrs. F. A. McAllister, 2511 West Adams street, although several hundred dollars' worth of silverware was on the table in the dining-room, where the thief found the clock.

Breaking his way through a window the clock-seeker then ransacked Mrs. McAllister's home from top to bottom and, although he handled jewelry, silverware, expensive clothing, took nothing but a large eight-day clock. Detectives who investigated the case today declared they were at a loss for a reason for the burglar's actions.

Grand Jury at a

THE grand jury investigation yesterday of the charge of attempted corruption made by F. J. Whiffen, former Councilman, against Arthur G. Kuck, Progressive candidate for State Senator, apparently developed nothing tangible enough to warrant the District Attorney in taking immediate action. After a score of witnesses had been examined the inquiry was continued until Monday, but Dist.-Atty. Woolwine expressed the opinion that the investigation will probably end as it started, with one man's word against that of another.

It is understood that Mr. Whiffen stood steadfastly by his original statement, elaborating his story somewhat, but bringing out nothing of particular significance from the grand jury viewpoint. Kuck apparently was just as firm in his denial of the accusation, and wore a broad smile when he left the jury room.

"You bet I can. I have nothing to worry over," he said.

FIST FIGHT IN HALL.

The morning session of the grand jury was enlivened by a fist fight in the corridor, the incident furnishing the only real excitement of the day. The scrap was between Henry A. Frazier, a reporter and Councilman Peter C. Wright. It happened in this way, according to eyewitnesses: Frazier had just emerged from the jury room when the Councilman, who later said he was joking, asked him: "What are you sneaking out the back way for? Are you afraid of what you have done?"

"Do you mean that?" Frazier asked.

Wright replied that he did and the reporter gave him an uppercut on the chin. Spectators rushed between the two men and the tilt was ended.

Frazier was interrogated concerning his conversations with Mr. Whiffen, for whom he arranged a conference with Martin Betkouski, president of the Council, when that body had the matter of the appointment of a new Mayor under consideration. The witness knew nothing about the charge.

All of the members of the Council are before the jury with the exception of President Betkouski, whose statement was taken early in the day by Deputies Doran and Ryan of the District Attorney's office. The solons supposedly denied

WHIFFEN-KUCK INQUIRY LOOKS LIKE STALEMATE

Diametrically-Opposite Stories Leave the Grand Jury at a Deadlock.

THE grand jury investigation yesterday of the charge of attempted corruption made by F. Whiffen, former Councilman, against Arthur G. Kuck, Progressive candidate for State Senator, apparently developed nothing tangible enough to warrant the District Attorney in taking immediate action. After a score of witnesses had been examined the inquiry was continued over Monday, but Dist.-Atty. Woolwine expressed the opinion that the investigation will probably end as it began, with one man's word against that of another.

It is understood that Mr. Whiffen stood steadfastly by his original statement, elaborating his story somewhat, but bringing out nothing of particular significance from the grand jury viewpoint. Kuck appeared as cool and just as firm in his denial of the accusation, and wore a broad smile when he left the jury room.

"Can you go home and get a good night's rest tonight?" a reporter asked him.

"You bet I can. I have nothing to worry over," he said.

FIST FIGHT IN HALL.

The morning session of the grand jury was enlivened by a fist fight in the corridor, the incident furnishing the only real excitement of the day. The scrap was between Henry A. Allen, a reporter and Councilman Carl C. Wright. It happened in the hall, according to eyewitnesses: Wright had just emerged from the jury room when the Councilman, who later said he was joking, asked him: "What are you sneaking out this back way for? Are you afraid of what you have done?"

"Do you mean that?" Frazier replied that he did and the reporter gave him an uppercut on the chin. Spectators rushed between the two men and the tilt was ended.

Kuck was interrogated concerning his conversations with Mr. Whiffen, for whom he arranged a conference with Martin Betkouski, president of the Council, when that body took up the matter of the appointment of a new Mayor under consideration. The witness knew nothing that bore on the charge.

All the members of the Council who gave the jury with the exception of President Betkouski, appeared in the course of the day. Betkouski's statement was taken early in the morning by Deputies Doran and Fraser of the District Attorney's office. He is said to have denied emphatically any knowledge of Kuck's alleged offer to Mr. Whiffen.

Lorin Handley and Owen McAleer, members of the Board of Public Works, who were reported to have been approached by someone with a proposition similar to that Mr. Whiffen said was made to him, reiterated the denials published in The Times yesterday.

E. T. Earl, publisher of the Express-Tribune, and his employees, Harley Brundige, editorial writer, and Laban A. Hoskins, managing editor, were called before the jury as a result of the conference held in the newspaper building Thursday morning, when Kuck, Mr. Whiffen and Deputy District Attorney Cryer, were present.

Mr. Earl and Mr. Brundige are said to have testified that the purpose in calling Kuck to their office was to find the truth. They declared there was no other motive. "We had been supporting Kuck politically and wanted to know the truth about him," Mr. Earl is reported to have told the investigators.

When Mr. Earl emerged from the jury room he played a game of hide and seek with a newspaper photographer who had a camera directed at him. He turned back and by a ruse escaped the picture man, departing from the main entrance to the grand jury room while the photographer was watching at another.

OTHER WITNESSES.

Among other witnesses were A. C. Tolliver and S. A. Woodford. The former is said to be Kuck's tenant and it had been reported he had seen members of the Council visit at the home of the accused. This was denied by Mr. Tolliver.

Woodford is said to have been formerly employed as a detective by Mr. Earl. During the recent campaign he was manager for Harry Ellis Dean, who sought the nomination for District Attorney.

Early in the afternoon Deputy Doran held a short conference with Dist.-Atty. Woolwine, and the latter said his deputy had a lead that might develop something of a sensation. Later it was announced that the tip had not materialized.

The Southern Counties Gas Company of California has filed with the Railroad Commission an application for authority to issue and sell $456,500 par value of its bonds at not less than 95 per cent., of which $85,000 are desired to be sold at once. The company says it has spent since July 31, 1916, or will spend before July 31, 1917, $520,707.51 for improving and enlarging its system.

STUDIES LAW IN JAIL A YEAR.

Lapique, Perpetual Litigant, Regains Liberty After Serving Time.

John Lapique, perpetual litigant and prisoner extraordinary, who spent fourteen hours daily for one year in jail studying law books, was released from the City Jail yesterday after serving his sentence following conviction on a charge of criminal libel. Nine other cases of criminal libel are pending against him.

He was sentenced to jail for one year by Police Judge Chesebro on July 1, 1915, when convicted of having committed criminal libel in his sensational charges against Mrs. Kate Agoure. He appealed the case, and the Superior Court affirmed Justice Chesebro's decision. Prior to that he had served 250 days in the County Jail when sentenced for contempt of court by Superior Judge Waldo M. York.

On an average of once a week he has filed some new action in the courts regarding his case. In preparing these actions, wherein he acted as his own attorney, he demanded the privilege of consulting authorities in the law library. Every day a policeman was detailed to accompany him to the library, where he worked until the library closed. Then he would take the volumes to the City Jail and study until the order of "lights out" put him to bed.

He served his full time on July 1, this year, but was held pending the other cases. Yesterday Police Judge Chesebro ordered him released, and set Tuesday as the day when the City Prosecutor should appear either to prosecute the other nine cases, or ask they be dismissed.

Two Motorists are Held Prisoners Fifteen Minutes when Machine Capsizes—Are Rescued by Police—Both are Hurt, One Seriously.

Two motorists were pinned beneath their overturned machine for fifteen minutes yesterday before the police could arrive and rescue them. The victims are David Mansfield, 37 years old, and Al H. Tanhardt, 34.

Mr. Mansfield, at the wheel, misjudged the corner at Ninth street and Santa Fe avenue, and the machine turned turtle. The men were unable to extricate themselves, the 2000-pound automobile pressing down upon them, but they could yell and they did.

The police were notified by one who heard the cries that there had been a tragedy. A police machine with detectives was dispatched to the scene. The automobile was lifted and the two men were taken to the Receiving Hospital.

Mr. Mansfield suffered from nervous shock that may prove unusually serious, internal injuries and severe cuts and bruises on his head and shoulders. Mr. Tanhardt's left collar bone was broken.

SCORE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH.

Motor Car Collides with Bus Filled with Passengers.

Lighter Vehicle Sent Rolling Down the Hillside.

Its Driver Arrested Pending Police Investigation.

Turning completely over three times in a wild dive down a hillside, an automobile containing six persons and loaded heavily with supplies was wrecked last evening at Alhambra when it ran into an autobus, also heavily loaded. A score of persons were injured, several of them seriously. The driver of the automobile, C. L. Lynch of Oatman, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and held for investigation.

The more seriously injured are:

Mrs. C. L. Lynch of Oatman, right thigh broken, internal injuries. Taken to San Bernardino Hospital.

Theodore Lynch, aged 3 years, bruised and head injured, also at hospital with mother.

Two other Lynch children, bruised. Cared for by residents of Alhambra.

Mrs. J. Shea, guest of Mrs. Lynch and a resident of No. 550 Crown Hill avenue, Los Angeles, internal injuries. County Hospital.

All of the above were in the machine driven by Lynch.

F. H. Green, driver of autobus, living at No. 1328 Western avenue, this city, body and head bruised, treated at Alhambra Hospital.

Mrs. F. H. Green, seriously crushed, at Alhambra Hospital.

Mrs. Crumb, Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Merrill, all of Los Angeles, given first aid at scene of accident and taken home. Several others were bruised slightly.

Mrs. K. B. Cannon No. 1330 Western avenue, chest hurt. At Alhambra Hospital.

C. L. Lynch and family, together with Mrs. Shea, were occupants of a large touring car and were on their way to the desert. The car was heavily laden with groceries, pieces of machinery and other supplies. According to eyewitnesses the Lynch car plunged into the autobus at the corner of Wilton avenue and the San Bernardino road in Alhambra.

The Lynch car struck with a terrific impact and was sent tumbling down the hillside. It turned over three times in its flight, scattering the occupants along its route. Mrs. Lynch was pinned beneath the debris and her thigh broken.

The occupants of the autobus were crushed from the blow of the other machine and nearly all more or less injured. Constable Parker of Alhambra was passing in an automobile and witnessed the accident. He announced that he would detain Lynch on a charge of reckless driving. More than 100 motor cars were stalled by the wreck and several cars bound for the city picked up the injured and rushed them away before their names could be learned. The more seriously injured were taken to the Alhambra Hospital and to the County Hospital. The autobus was partially demolished.

Plans for Organization.

At a meeting yesterday of the Organizing Committee of the Woman's Patton for Senator Club, in the headquarters maintained by the club in the Hotel Clark, a constitution was formulated and rules for action were tentatively decided upon, subject to the action of the club at its next meeting on Wednesday. It remains for this preliminary committee to select the officers for the club.

Under the guidance of Miss Mary Foy, who is acting as temporary chairman, the plans for a thorough organization are being laid.

Friends Grieved to Learn of Family's Separation.

Mrs. Carroll Allen and her two pretty children.

Mr. Allen, a prominent local attorney, confirmed the reported separation of the popular couple yesterday with the statement that he does even know where his wife is. Her friends say she has established a residence at Reno.

Social Shock.

CARROLL ALLENS PARTED; SHE STARTS FOR RENO.

THE many friends of Carroll Allen, prominent attorney and clubman of this city, learned with deep and sincere regret yesterday of the separation of Mr. Allen and his beautiful wife, Mrs. Evelyn Gwynne Allen. The fact was confirmed yesterday afternoon by Mr. Allen, who, apparently laboring under great emotion, declared he does not even know where his wife is. Her friends say she is on her way to Reno, Nev., and gave No. 125 California street, that city, as that of her prospective abode. Telegraphic advices from the Nevada city last evening were to the effect that Mrs. Allen had not yet arrived, but that she had written from Fresno reserving hotel accommodations and that mail is awaiting her.

At the Allen residence at No. 2626 Orchard street it was said that Mrs. Allen had left the city a short time ago and is not expected to return for a year at least. Mr. Allen is making his home at the California Club. It is understood that Carolyn, the 12-year-old daughter, is to join her mother and that the boy will be sent to school in Tennessee.

Intimate friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Allen said that during the past year the couple have been gradually drawing apart. In his offices in the H. W. Hellman Building yesterday Mr. Allen appeared deeply affected.

"I don't care to go into details about the matter," he said. "It isn't my place to talk. I don't know where Mrs. Allen is. She may be in Nevada, or she may not. I don't know."

Close friends of the family said yesterday that the separation was by mutual consent and followed an entirely amicable conference on the subject. These friends are hopeful that the separation may prove merely temporary. It is understood that Mr. Allen is supplying his wife with $500 a month.

Mr. Allen is a member of the California and Los Angeles Country clubs. Mrs. Allen has been prominent in social circles of the city for several years. She is a relative of the Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilts.

DUSKY "QUEEN" MUM IN COURT.

"Saint" Ella a Sphinx While Theft is Charged.

White Devotees Crowd Close to Mulatto Mystic.

As Two of Flock Declare She Took Their Savings.

Queen by courtesy, but not in fact, Mrs. Ella Smith, a mulatto of middle age, whose reputed mystical power to heal the sick and the lame has drawn around her a band of devoted white men and women, sat in majesty before Justice Forbes yesterday, facing a charge of grand larceny. Behind were closely packed her followers, "the children," as they love to be known. These women are of all ranks, some poor, others well off in this world's goods.

One of the white spectators approached "Saint" Ella before court opened and saluted her with a kiss. They all believe her innocent. They are bound by a mystical bond. No one of the uninitiated has been able to discover the secret of this mulatto woman's influence over an ever-growing band of devotees.

And yet two of her followers have lodged a serious charge against her. These are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kubish of No. 953 East Thirty-third street, whose savings of $500 they allege "Queen" Ella took. "This, her devotees say, is impossible.

The circumstance of the alleged theft are unique. Mrs. Kubish is a milliner. Her husband is a wigmaker. During years they amassed $500 in paper money, which was kept in an iron trunk. December 5, 1915, "Saint" Ella, the guiding spirit of a chapel at No. 963 East Thirty-third street, visited Mrs. Kubish, the latter testified yesterday. She called to see about some goods.

HEAVEN OR GERMANY.

"She kissed me," said Mrs. Kubish, a slight, elderly woman. "She always spoke to me about money. She asked: 'If you don't go to heaven, where do you think you will go?' I said: 'If I don't go to heaven, I have enough money to go to Germany.' But she did not believe it, so I showed her."

Mrs. Kubish declares she proudly exhibited the roll of bills and when "Queen" Ella asked her to bring some feathers from an adjoining room, she laid the roll in a box in the trunk.

"I saw her put the money under her arm," she testified, through an interpreter. "I could not speak to Official.

NO NEW CHIEF OF POLICE; SNIVELY GETS FREE HAND.

PERSISTENT rumors were in circulation about the City Hall yesterday, emanating from apparently reliable sources, to the effect that Mayor Woodman had settled on an appointee for the position of Chief of Police. The name of Don C. Fugitt, port warden at San Pedro, was prominently mentioned as the next Chief. A visit by Mr. Woodman to the port yesterday afternoon revived the rumors.

Attorney E. E. Leighton, who accompanied Mayor Woodman to the port, last night set at rest all rumors as to a change in the head of the police department. He stated emphatically that there will be no change.

"Mayor Woodman is asleep," Mr. Leighton said. "However, I can say for him that there is to be no new Chief of Police. Chief Snively is to be given every opportunity to make good. It is well known that he was saddled with restrictions under the last administration that well-nigh deprived him of power over the force. Now he has outlined a policy that meets with the approval of the Mayor, and he is to be given the opportunity of testing his strength. If he can conduct the department of police in the manner he has outlined he will be aided in every possible way.

"Chief Snively has shown that he has a complete knowledge of the needs of the city and that as an executive he is capable of putting into execution many reforms. He declares that heretofore he was unable to make certain changes and was effectually prevented from getting the best out of his department. He now has the opportunity to run the department according to his best ideals, and the Mayor will watch and see that he gets his chance."

After his resignation was rejected and he was told to go ahead with his work, Chief Snively outlined his plan to make this city clean. He said he will clear the department of all men who drink or show signs of drinking. Efficiency is to be the watchword. Political appointees have been eliminated in one sweep and the incompetent will follow. Grafters, gamblers, vagrants and those who prey on the public are to be called in and given the choice of going to work or leaving the city. Chinese lottery joints are to be closed. Chief Snively stated that 300 arrests of Chinese lottery players has had no effect, and that as a result the red light abatement act will be invoked against the property owners who rent their places to gamblers.

Mayor Woodman has not as yet selected a secretary to succeed Rev. Glenn McWilliams, and his close friends last night could not be persuaded to say who will be the next secretary. It was rumored, however, that a newspaper man who is familiar with the city and the Mayor's duties has been approached with a tentative offer of the position. Mr. McWilliams tendered his resignation following the resignation of Mayor Sebastian, but Mayor Woodman refused to accept it until he could look around and familiarize himself with the duties of the office and make a selection of a secretary. Several men have been mentioned for the position, but Mayor Woodman has refused to make a positive statement as to which he favors.

PICKS REAR DOOR.

While Mrs. Anna McArthur of No. 803 South Lake street was sitting on her front porch with her two daughters early last night a burglar picked the lock to the rear door of her home and, after ransacking several rear bedrooms, escaped undetected with a silver mesh handbag and $15 in money. Detectives Gillett and Rico, who investigated the burglary, discovered the handbag in the back yard, where the burglar had thrown it after extracting the money.

WILL ADD EXTRA STORY TO THE HOTEL HAYWARD.

AN EXTRA story is to be added at once to the eight floors of the Hotel Hayward at Sixth and Spring streets as the result of arrangements completed yesterday between Henderson Hayward, owner, and H. C. Fryman, lessee and proprietor of the downtown hostelry. The addition, it was stated by Mr. Fryman last night, will be planned by the architectural firm of Walker & Vawter, who have had charge of the extensive alterations that are now being finished on the ground story of the same hotel.

The new ninth story will bring the skyline of the Hayward some fourteen feet above the present cornice level and will give the management added space and facilities long needed. The arrangement of floor will be absolutely unique for this city. The whole story will be devoted to the exclusive use of traveling men, being divided into suites combining the purposes of sleeping quarters and sample rooms. Each apartment will have a completely equipped sample room for the display of goods, a bedroom, bath and dressing-room. Unusual provision will be made for lighting.

The extra story will be of the same fireproof construction as the present building and will cover the entire roof area of 82x109 feet. Architecturally it will be in keeping with the existing street fronts, excepting as to the new cornice, which will be changed somewhat from the present one, to preserve the proper proportions and at the same time provide for the special lighting arrangements.

The enlargement and refinishing of the lobby, undertaken when some of the space formerly occupied by the Salt Lake Railway was secured by the hotel, are now practically completed, as is also the new entrance on Sixth street. Gray marble plays a large part in the new scheme of decoration. The entire building is to be redecorated and refurnished this year.

In Honduras.

SOUGHT IN MANY LANDS, FUGITIVE'S BEYOND LAW.

J. K. TENNANT, who, with Harry Z. Adams, secretary of the Orange County Dried Fruit Association, was indicted by the Federal grand jury for conspiring in a scheme to defraud through the use of the mails, in connection with the affairs of the Western Underwriting and Mortgage Company and who has been a fugitive from justice, has been located in Honduras, according to information received at the office of United States District Attorney Schoonover. His bond of $10,000 was declared forfeited by Judge Trippet.

In Honduras he is immune from arrest, for the treaty between the United States and that country does not cover such crimes as conspiracy.

REDEDICATION OF A CHURCH.

First Christian Edifice to be Consecrated Anew.

Unique Memorial Library is to be Opened.

What's Going on in Religious Fields Hereabouts.

Tomorrow will be a notable day in the history of the First Christian Church, as it will witness the re-dedication of the church edifice and the formal dedication of a unique memorial missionary library.

During the past four months extensive alterations have been in progress in this church building, and it is now in readiness for the greater activities that come after the summer vacation. The dedicatory events will begin with the session of the Bible school at 9:30 o'clock, when Leon V. Shaw, the superintendent, will lead a great rally of the school. At 10:30 o'clock the memorial missionary library, in memory of the late Mrs. Russell F. Thrapp, will be formally dedicated. J. G. Warren will make the address and S. M. Cooper will give the dedicatory prayer. Miss Dorothy Beach, contralto, will sign a dedicatory hymn.

This library contains about 300 volumes and is an architectural feature of the building. The central panel above the library contains the words: "Missionary Library, Dedicated to the Memory of Mary R. Thrapp." The left panel contains the command of Jesus: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," and the right panel has the immortal words of Livingstone: "Anywhere, provided it be forward." The books of the library will be loaned to the members of the church. Miss Hazel Solister has been selected as librarian, with Mrs. J. H. Bumbarger as assistant.

At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning Rev. Russell F. Thrapp, the minister, will preach on "The Church of the Living God." The Intermediate and Young People's Christian Endeavor meetings will meet at 6:15 o'clock in the evening, and the regular evening sermon will close the events of the day.

The rearrangement of the building has created one of the best Bible school equipments in the city.

MOVES FORWARD.
BIBLE INSTITUTE GROWS.

Students are already gathering at the Bible Institute for the fall term, which opens September 27. Dr. William Evans, associate dean, is back from his vacation, ready for the opening, and Dr. R. A. Torrey, dean, will return soon. There have been two changes in the faculty. John R. Trowbridge of Chicago, widely known in church musical circles throughout the country, supplants L. F. Peckham in voice culture, conducting and music teacher training. Mr. Peckham, after five years' successful work with the institute, goes into the evangelistic field with John McComb, as soloist and conductor. Mrs. Frances C. Allison becomes superintendent of women and instructor in practical methods of Christian work for women, supplanting Miss Hill, who has gone into other Christian work. There is promise of a greatly-increased enrollment of students in all departments.

Dr. Prench E. Oliver will close his series of sermons at the Church of the Open Door, Bible Institute Auditorium, tomorrow. His morning subject will be, "Gethsemane to Calvary;" that of the evening, "A Marvelous Love Story."

GIRLS HELP REFORM.

Sell Buttons on Streets to Aid Prisoners—Money Collected will be Used to Build New City Jail and for Needed Improvements.

Over 100 girls sold buttons in the downtown street yesterday in behalf of prison reform under the auspices of the Prisoners' Friend Society. The money collected will be used to defray the expense of a reform campaign. Yesterday's work was the first step taken.

The buttons were sold by teams of girls, ten girls to each team, in the hotels, business houses and at Washington Park. Several automobiles paraded the city streets yesterday bearing banners urging that aid be given the movement.

The campaign was assisted by the Royal Scotch Pipe Band, which headed the parade, and afterwards played in several of the prominent hotels. In each hotel, little talks, explaining the nature of the campaign and the results desired, were made by Oroville J. Nave.

The campaign will continue, the purpose being to bring about the construction of a new City Jail and to cause an addition to be made to the County Jail. In a short time, petitions requesting the City Council to build a new jail will be presented to the public for signatures. Similar petitions in behalf of the County Jail will be circulated by the society, which has its headquarters in the Wright-Callendar Building.

JUDGE FAVORS ELASTIC TERM.

Also Board to Decide When to Release Prisoners.

Record and Disposition Bases of Decision.

Man Convicted of Arson Given Two and Half Years.

Judge Craig yesterday went on record as favoring a law providing for indeterminate sentences of criminals and the creation of a board having authority to say what proportion of such sentence a prisoner shall serve, dependent upon the record of the defendant and disposition to "go straight," in the future. He thought a law making it possible for a court to inflict a maximum and minimum punishment would be a good thing in the treatment of the great question as to how the criminally-inclined should be handled.

Judge Craig gave his views when passing sentence upon Rheinhardt Graumann, Jr., who had been convicted on two counts of an indictment alleging arson, in the destruction of the residence at No. 547 Camilla avenue, Watts.

An application was made for probation on behalf of Graumann, but the court rejected that idea, positively saying that the crime of which the young man had been convicted was supposed deliberation and scheming, and probation was not for such. He denied the application.

Judge Craig then sentenced Graumann to two years and a half in San Quentin, declaring that the records of the court in Oakland in which August Mundt, an alleged partner of Graumann, two years and a half on a similar charge, while Mundt's wife, also implicated in the same game with Graumann, had been released in Oakland on a five-year term of probation, had governed him. It was while discussing the necessity for harmony in the question of sentences for the same crime that the court favored the law that would allow indeterminate sentences.

When asked what trade or profession he followed, Graumann said he was a farmer and a lace and embroidery maker. He is an expert at all fancy work, having graduated from one of the big German factories in Leipzig.

An application for probation was made on behalf of George F. Leber, convicted of burglary in the second degree. The matter will be taken up the 28th inst.

Fred Allen pleaded guilty to the charge of not contributing to the support of his minor children. His case will be disposed of next Monday.

Divorced Wife with Seven Children Asks Relief—Man in Case Says Spouse Used to "Frisk" His Pockets Every Night for Cash.

John Bendowski, who claims that his wife used to go through his clothes every night and "frisk" them of their contents, was before Superior Court Judge Craig, yesterday, on the charge of failure to provide.

It seems that Bendowski had later been divorced from his wife, Minnie, by an interlocutory decree, and the wife claimed that he had not only refused to support the children, seven in number, but had annoyed her by his attentions.

Bendowski denied that he had not supported the offspring, saying that some weeks he gave them as much as $4. He was held for further examination next Tuesday.

IMPETUOUS SWAIN WINS HIS BRIDE.

INSISTS ON MIDNIGHT WEDDING DESPITE OBJECTIONS.

Frequent Trips Between Los Angeles and San Francisco and Numerous Long-distance Telephone and Telegraph Messages Feature Ardent Wooing.

As a climax to a romance that began in the rose room of the St. Francis in San Francisco eighteen months ago, and was carried on by telephone, telegraph and by mail through the months that followed, John Anthony Clecak, well-to-do San Francisco real estate man, and Mrs. Nancy Blewett Christal, daughter of George H. Blewett of Denton, Tex., were secretly married here at midnight Thursday. The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. C. Curry of No. 513 Fifth avenue, by Rev. Marcus McClure.

The engagement of the two was announced in San Francisco and in Denton several weeks ago. Simultaneously it was stated the marriage would occur about the first of the year. Mr. Clecak could see no reason for the long wait, however, and after making ten trips to Los Angeles in the few weeks his bride has been staying with her sister, and running up large telephone and telegraph bills between trips, he persuaded her to "elope."

The license was secured late Thursday afternoon and then the bride-to-be changed her mind!

The prospective groom enlisted the aid of his about-to-be sister-in-law and by 11 o'clock p.m. succeeded in persuading Mrs. Christal to consent to go on with the ceremony.

"It's too late now," he says she told him, "but I'll marry you tomorrow."

"I'll take no chance on tomorrow," he says he replied, and proceeded to arouse Rev. Mr. McClure, who arrived in a taxicab in time to perform the ceremony at midnight.

The two will leave tomorrow for a honeymoon tour of the Yosemite and will go to San Francisco about October 1.

In spite of the fact that the party took place at noon the company worked in the afternoon.

Polite Mr. Dillingham.

Mme. Pavlowa is having her troubles at the Hippodrome in New York, according to the New York Telegraph. During dress rehearsal the other day Mme. Pavlowa complained that the noise of a fountain in a grotto at the back of the stage annoyed her, and stated it would either have to be suppressed or taught to play in proper rhythm with her dance.

Mr. Dillingham was very polite, and after apologizing for the recreant fountain, explained:

"Madame, you shall be annoyed no longer. We will use only soft water hereafter in that fountain."

Help!

Eddie Lowe met with a dreadful mishap while at Coronado last week. Being always alert to the latest noise in things sartorial, Eddie took with him but one shirt stud, the one-button dress shirt being, it appears, the latest yell in men's fashions. But when Eddie came to dress for a dinner party given in his honor at the Coronado Hotel, alas, he had brought only shirts of the old-fashioned, three-studded kind.

He telephoned around to all his acquaintances, but alas, nobody had any extra studs. Finally he lowered his haughty spirit sufficiently to ask the hotel head barber for the loan of his Sunday studs, and the barber kindly obliged. And so Eddie went to dinner, and all seemed well.

But alas, even a humble barber may receive invitations, too. The hotel head barber is a handsome devil, and popular in his own set. And he likewise received an invitation to dine.

It was over the liquors and cigars that the dread summons came. The barber sent in an apprentice, more noted for his talents at shaving and shampooing than for his diplomacy. He entered the dining-room, approached Eddie, and in a hoarse stage whisper, which could be heard by all the company, he announced:

"Please, sir, the barber he wants them shirt studs you got on!"

Curtain.

Mudding Crowd for His.

Harry Williams, the noted song writer, who has been directing Keystone comedies at Balboa for the past month, says that life on a houseboat is beginning to pall, and he yearns to get back where the lights burn bright and late. He says he's beginning to feel like Napoleon when the boat sailed away.

Then taking pictures at a summer resort isn't what it's cracked up to be.

"We're going to blow up the boats at the finish," said Williams yesterday, "and all the summer boarders know it. At the slightest provocation they come out in all sorts of craft, from motor boats to log rafts, and hover around waiting to be blown up."

The company which is working on a picture starring Chester Conklin and entitled "The Houseboat" will be home within the next few days.

SEEK WRIT OF REVIEW.

Petitioners Allege Irregularities in Storm District Proceedings.

A petition for a writ of review of proceedings before the Superior Court of Orange county, on July 19 last, when the united storm water district was formed by the Supervisors of that county, was filed in the District Court of Appeal yesterday.

The petitioners are Susana P. Bryan, Fred H. Bixby, I. W. Heilman, Artesian Land Company and the Alimitos Sugar Company, but it is stated that the movement has the backing of many land owners of the county. The alleged purpose of the organization of the water district was to prevent the overflow of the Santa Ana River. Irregularity in the proceedings is alleged in the petition. No action was taken by the District Court.

ELECTION FOR CAFE DANCING.

City Attorney Prepares New Charter Amendments.

Provides for Consolidation of Tax Offices.

City May be Allowed to Make Own Street Improvements.

The Council yesterday formally instructed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance calling a special election on October 24 for the submission of charter amendments and the initiative ordinance to allow regulated dancing in hotels and cafes.

Assistant City Attorney Howard Robertson is working on the charter amendments, of which there will be at least seven and perhaps more. One will authorize the granting of rights of way under park property. Another will allow of the appointment of a special commission to take charge of the construction or maintenance, or both, of buildings or other structures erected in parks by means of private donations.

A third amendment will provide for the payment of salaries of city employees either monthly, semi-monthly or weekly. A fourth will provide for the consolidation of city elections with elections called by the county upon consent being received from the Board of Supervisors.

Another amendment will authorize the transfer of the functions of the city government with regard to the assessing of property for taxation and the collection of taxes; in other words, it will provide for the consolidation of the city and county offices of assessors and tax collectors. This will be broad enough to cover other things of minor consequence.

Another amendment will allow of the city doing its own street improvement work, including construction of sewers, gas and other mains, conduits and so forth. Attorney Robertson said it may be broadened to work out an opening, widening and street vacation scheme.

In regard to the division of the city into districts the Council has not yet notified the attorney's office whether an amendment to provide for this is to be included. The petitions are on the subject are before the Finance Committee for recommendation.

Another amendment which may be included is in regard to the creation of districts for the issuance of district bonds. Word is awaited from the Public Service Commission on this. It will give the city power to do this under a procedure ordinance. At present there is a statute under which the same thing is done by the city, as in the cases of the Hollywood and Bairdstown districts. It may be considered more advisable to have the power to create these districts under the charter instead of under a State law.

Old Story.

WAYWARD FEET IN LAW'S NET AGAIN.

LOS ANGELES LAD IS JAILED AS BILL RAISER.

Father Declares He will Do Nothing to Aid Son Who has been in Reformatory Four Times and Now Faces Federal Charge at Sacramento.

Joseph Desser, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Desser of No. 253 West Forty-third street, was arrested by police and Federal secret service operative in Sacramento night before last, charged with raising $2 bills to $20 and passing them. With him were Fred Smith of San Francisco and Thomas Allan of Sacramento.

According to dispatches from the north, Allan confessed when confronted with plates alleged to have been used in changing the currency.

The Los Angeles boy, whose parents are wealthy dry goods manufacturers and retail merchants and are of social prominence, has been in trouble so often that his family will make no effort to save him from the consequences of his alleged crime, according to statements by the father last night. The lad has been in the Whittier and Lone State schools and in all has served four sentences in reformatories.

"I have spent a fortune trying to keep that boy straight," said Mr. Desser last evening. "I set him up in business and gave him an $8000 stock, and even then he broke away and went back to his old ways. Six months ago I gave him some money and he left—for Calexico, he said, where he was to do something or other, he didn't say what. That was the last I heard of him until news of his present plight was received."

O'BRIEN WINS FROM LAUDER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Sept. 8.—Danny O'Brien was given the decision here tonight over Len Lauder in a four-round boxing bout at the Auditorium. The fight was clever and interesting from a boxing standpoint, and O'Brien, with his speed, craftiness and youth, had the edge.

From the slugging standpoint the bout may have seemed a trifle slow to some. But what it lacked in hard wallops it made up for in the number of them.

Johnny Oliver and Tony Ross again boxed tonight, and for the fourth time Oliver won. That comes near deciding the supremacy. Oliver pulled a trick on Ross tonight. He told Tony that his shoe was untied. When Ross stooped to look for his wandering shoestrings Oliver straightened him up with vicious uppercuts.

Jimmy Brown came near knocking Jack Hogan out. Nothing but stubborn Irish kept Hogan on his feet.

ALASKANS MEET.

The Alaska-Yukon Society held a reunion last night in its rooms in The Times Building. The interesting programme included a violin solo by Miss Ester Webber and a coronet solo by Master Baltzer Webber. Tales of the Far North were told and old friendships renewed and new ones made.

her; she would not let me, because she talks to the Lord."

"She told me when I come back to the new world, I will get my money, she said she had a big storehouse and was keeping it for me," later testified Mrs. Kubish.

The next day Mrs. Kubish spoke to her husband about it. But they did not get the money back, she said. Mrs. Kubish was hoarding that money to return to Germany if her husband should pass away.

SHE WASN'T CURED.

She admitted on cross-examination that she had testified at one of "Baha" Ella's meetings that she had been cured of rheumatism of six years' standing.

"I said that," she declared, "but it was a lie."

From the trend of the cross-examination it is evident that the defense will be that Mr. and Mrs. Kubish did not have this sum of money saved up; that Mrs. Kubish had declared she had no money and had borrowed car fare because she was poor.

"Queen" Ella remained as silent as the sphinx. A royal white escort took her to the justice court and surrounded her as court adjourned until Tuesday morning, when the hearing will be resumed. Her bearing is majestic; her face immovable. She quotes the Bible fluently and correctly, and while said to be unlettered she apparently understands Greek, Latin and Hebrew. Many cures have been ascribed to her. While Mrs. Kubish declares she told a lie in meeting, she cannot explain why.

SWEDISH SINGERS OPEN SANGERFEST.

PASADENA GREETS SONGBIRDS WITH ROYAL RECEPTION.

One Thousand Visitors Here Today for Harmony Concert Tonight at Flower Auditorium. Meet Pleasant Fellowship Everywhere, Leader Says.

Coming together in the name of song and good fellowship, the Swedish Singing Society Harmony of Los Angeles opened a three days' grand concert and sangerfest with a reception and banquet last evening at the Maryland in Pasadena. The 200 guests included a number of prominent professional and business men of Southern California.

Herman Bostrom, chairman of the convention, introduced Hjalmar Johnson of Pasadena, who was toastmaster. Short addresses were made by Swedish Vice-Consul G. Eckdahl, Dr. Albert E. Wilson, principal of Manual Arts High School, and Mr. Bostrum. Mrs. Parker Sheldon, a soprano, gave a vocal solo.

One thousand visitors are expected in Los Angeles today. They will spend most of the day on pleasure trips. A grand concert will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in Flower auditorium, followed with a reception and ball. The closing session of the sangerfest will be held tomorrow at Redondo Beach, where concerts will be given at 2 p.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.

"Our Swedish singers in Southern California are meeting for a few days of song and pleasant fellowship," Mr. Bostrom said last night in his speech of welcome. "We believe that this means a period of real enjoyment and we hope that our songs will be of interest and of musical value to all. We have learned to believe in the worth of music to uplift and comfort, and know how often a song of cheer and gladness will brighten our whole day.

"Wherever any of our good people have lived or settled in any number there you will find that they create a musical center, even if consisting of only a few voices. There is not a city of any size, either in the United States or Sweden, where there is a Swedish population, but you will find these people gathered together to raise their voices in song.

"It is now about fifty years since the Swedish quartette took the first international prize at Paris. Since that time the same songs have been recognized everywhere. In our own city of Los Angeles it took quite a long time to get the present Singing Society Harmony started. It was no easy task to gather together good singers and more difficult to procure the right director. Our songs in Southern California have been given a great deal of new life on account of our excellent singers at San Diego."

Miss Lillian J. Backstrand of the music department of the University of Southern California will be the principal soloist at the concert this evening. She will give a group of Swedish songs in costume and later a group of English songs. There will be the other numbers on the programme:

Music, Gordon's Orchestra; address of welcome, Mr. Aldrich Nelson, president S.S.S. Harmony; "Hor oso Svea (Swedish song,) the male chorus; address of the day, Dr. Albert E. Wilson; "Jagarsong" (Swedish Song,) the male chorus; Swedish national dances in their costumes, Director Axel Peterson; "Ba Stark" (Swedish song) the male chorus; "Star Spangled Banner," the male chorus; music, Gordon's Orchestra.

The male chorus will give all three programmes tomorrow at Redondo Beach. John Axelson is director of the sangerfest; Mr. Bostrom, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements; Axel Nyberg, chairman of the Programme Committee, and D. Dahlin, chairman of the Reception Committee.

Unbalanced?

ENDS LIFE IN CELL.

Suspected Insane Man Hangs Self with Bed Sheet While Confined in County Hospital—Made Threats on Downtown Streets Wednesday.

Frank A. Johnson, suspected of being mentally unbalanced, ended his life yesterday by hanging himself in his cell in the psychopathic ward in the County Hospital. He used a bed sheet for a noose. He was 67 years old.

On September 6 Johnson was taken to the hospital suffering from acute mania. He had been arrested the preceding day in the downtown district, where he was shouting and making threats. The surgeons in the Receiving Hospital recommended he be examined by the lunacy commission, as they considered him dangerous and violent.

Within a short time after J. L. Crosby, night nurse in the ward, made his regular round of inspection, Johnson twisted one of his bedsheets into a rope, tied one end to a top bar in the cell, and then making a noose, inserted his head and lifed his feet from the floor.

On the next round of Nurse Crosby his body was found suspended. He had been dead for several minutes. The body was taken to the J. D. Button morgue.

REPORT ON HUMANE WORK.

The statistical report of the city Humane Animal Commission for August shows a total of $335 in fines collected during the month, or total receipts of $17,767.60 up to the 1st inst. There is also record of a thirty-day jail sentence imposed, thirty-two animals suspended from labor, eighteen arrests of persons charged with mistreating stock, and seventeen convictions secured. At the pound, 205 dogs and 323 cats were destroyed.

Much Wanted.

At last accounts Tennant's family was in San Diego.

Efforts have been made by Tennant's bondsmen, W. E. Ser-Vis and David Herts, to secure his arrest ever since the bond was declared forfeited, in the hope that execution on their property might be averted. Reports have come to Asst. Dist. Atty. Robert O'Connor, who has the case in charge, and Attorney Charles Kelly, who represents Ser-Vis, that Tennant was about to be picked up, that he was located and that it would be a matter of but a few days when his capture would be effected.

He was supposedly located in Mexico, Canada and several other outlying provinces, but just as it appeared he was about to be captured, he is alleged to be in the haven of crooks from the United States whose crimes are not covered by extradition treaty, and living among the citizens who have left their country for their country's good, hibernating in Tegucigalpa, Amapala and Puerto Cortes.

It has been arranged that the bondsmen shall pay a part of the security, with time for the liquidation of the entire $10,000, in the hope that later Tennant may be apprehended and his friends saved a part of the security. Mr. Ser-Vis has already spent several hundred dollars hunting for Tennant.

CANCEL SOAP ORDER.

Australia Shows Los Angeles British Embargo Effect.

Los Angeles yesterday felt the effects of the British embargo on soap when a large order of chemicals, including liquid soap, for Australia was canceled. The order was to have been filled by the Bobrick Chemical Company, who have an established trade in Australia. The Houses of Parliament in Melbourne are equipped throughout with dispensers and liquid soap made in Los Angeles. The cancelation of this order was reported to the trade extension bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

ROSE IS BETTER.

Former Mayor, Ill in Mountains, Believed Out of Danger.

The condition of former Mayor H. H. Rose is so much improved that it is thought he can be brought to his home here the first of next week.

He is still in a mountain camp twenty-five miles back of Big Pine, above Bishop, but he is so much better, according to Mrs. Rose, that it is believed he is entirely out of danger. He was stricken, while on a hunting trip, with a violent attack of gout and it was feared for awhile that he could not survive.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Wall-street stock dealings again went well over one million shares, with the professional character of the trading evidenced by the fact that a half dozen issues constituted 50 per cent. of the turnover. Reading was the leader in this big sales movement. Initial trading in United Kingdom 5 per cent. notes featured the steady bond market.

HE WILL INQUIRE INTO IT.

Japan's latest demands on China again threaten American interests in the Far East. But heaven be praised! we have a Lansing on the job. He will inquire into it—he has already said so. And, of course, his inquiry will be as effective as his notes to Germany, Great Britain and Mexico. Where would America be without her Wilson, her Lansing, her Col. Houses and Johnny Linds. How wonderful a weapon of defense is a Democratic inquiry!

A TIP TO PROHIBITIONISTS.

The son of the late Richard C. Kerens, by the terms of his father's will, must remain sober for five consecutive years to gain control of his father's $5,000,000 estate. That offers an excellent cue for the prohibitionists. Let them dangle $5,000,000 for five years abstinence before the nose of such fellows as wink at the wine when it is red and, though we are not given to prophecies, we are willing to venture the prediction that the consumption of booze will be somewhat decreased.

THE DEPARTING CONGRESS.

The Democratic Congress has finished its work, adjourned, and on the eve of election offers its record to the nation as reason for returning the present national administration to office. Seldom have men had so little of which to pretend to be proud; and a Congress that went into office under the slogan of "Jeffersonian simplicity" has heaped to overflowing the largest "pork barrel" ever seen in the country. Congress cannot explain away its enormous expenditures under the specious plea that its budget was swelled by needed military appropriations. As a matter of fact, those appropriations were signally inadequate, while those for "pork" were beyond all sense or precedent.

SMART ORIENTALS.

For months past some Pasadena Chinaman have been quietly buying up Russian currency in small amounts and with the remarkable rise in the value of the rouble, due to Russia's late military successes, have been reaping steady profits. Pasadena speculators have only just caught onto the game and are rushing in where the Chinaman was wise enough to tread softly. But the cream has already been skimmed from the milk, for Russia exchange reached high-water mark when Rumania entered the war and has since remained stationary waiting further developments. The sleepy oriental seems sometimes to be endowed with an uncanny second sight.

GEOGRAPHICAL, NOT RACE, EXCLUSION.

The Immigration Committee of the United States Senate has made material amendments to the immigration bill. The bill, as amended, designates by geographical description the peoples to be excluded from the United States, instead of excluding, according to the original provisions, people not eligible to become citizens of the United States.

The geographical description does not include Japan, so the Japanese are not excluded by the bill. This leaves the Japanese exclusion to be effected by the Root-Takahira "gentleman's agreement," under which the Japanese government undertakes to keep Japanese from the United States by passport regulation.

THE LOST ATLANTIS.

Among the possibilities promised by the development of mercantile submarines as large as the Deutschland is a scientific exploration of the bottom of that portion of the Atlantic Ocean known as the Sargasso Sea, which lies between the mouth of the Mediterranean and the coast of Brazil. It is a part of the ocean that is avoided by mariners for it is a region of calms where currents converge, carrying with them quantities of seaweed that impede, and indeed prevent the progress of ships.

Attempts have been made at times to fish up from the bottom of the Sargasso Sea what might be found there, and fragments of pottery have been obtained which indicate that the story of Atlantis, the lost continent, is not altogether a fable, and that in prehistoric days there was a great city which by cataclysm was suddenly sunk to the bottom of the ocean.

A submarine can readily make an exploration which would be impossible for a ship which can only travel on the surface, for as undersea craft could sink under the seaweed and explore the depths.

If there was really and truly a populated country, records of the existence of which it is said have been found in the Egyptian pyramids, there will be found relics which a few thousand years of submersion have not destroyed. Wood would be destroyed, as would metals, but diamonds and chinaware and some kinds of stone would not be affected by the prolonged bath.

THE ODOR OF ENLIGHTENED STATESMANSHIP.

In the process of changing Mayors, Los Angeles has witnessed a brilliant example of enlightened statesmanship.

The Sebastian administration having ended disgracefully, it became appropriate to release a flood of purity and light; and the Progressive party bosses leaped into the breach.

From a candid examination of their efforts in this regard, it would seem to an unprejudiced observer that either something is the matter with the purity and light machinery, or there is something foul in the place from which the purity and light of the Progressive party bosses gushes forth. Events seem to favor the latter diagnosis.

The best that can be made out of the Whiffen-Kuck matter is a very nasty mess. There are certain mysterious features in connection with it indicating that the political surgeons are only tinkering with the leaves of a poison plant, and not finding the root.

The man who is accused of having come to Mr. Whiffen with an offer to sell him the office of Mayor for $2500 is one of the favored sons of the Progressive party. During a campaign speech, made just before the primaries, Gov. Hiram Johnson publicly selected this man as one of his disciples and hung over him his cloak of reform. He cannot now be disowned.

The Mayor muss, resolved into its elements, indicates either (1) that Mr. Whiffen is a most extraordinary liar and has built up a most astonishing romance, or (2) that an emissary of the Progressives has been guilty of a very serious offensive.

Assuming that Mr. Whiffen has given the correct version of what occurred in his office, there still remain depths of the situation that have not been solved.

If he was offering the Mayor's job for sale for $2500, Mr. Kuck would seem to have been doing a little brokerage business in a commodity which he did not have on hand. Of his own right, Mr. Kuck certainly had no Mayor's jobs to give away or to sell. To put the matter in its most polite phase, Kuck, if he is guilty, must have had a powerful client with Mayor jobs to sell.

For whom was Mr. Kuck acting if he acted? Who was going to deliver the goods if Whiffen came across?

In investigating Mr. Kuck, the grand jury seems to be trying to kill a dog by stepping on its tail. They don't hit the dog.

From the flattering tributes of our great reform chieftain, we learn, with reverence and deep respect, that Mr. Kuck was a humble, devoted and faithful soldier in the ranks of the Progressives. If Kuck went on this mission, he did not go without orders. Who gave the orders?

As a matter of fact, it is not probable that anything will ever come out of this nasty mess. The grand jury and the courts, if it comes into the courts, have only two items of testimony upon which to rely: Whiffen, who says Kuck tried to sell him the Mayoralty; Kuck, who says he did not. Personally and privately, we have the right to believe whom of the two seems most worthy of belief; but the law has no such choice. The law cannot believe the unsupported story of either. So the matter will most likely end with a bad smell.

The stain will remain only as a taint upon certain reformers who have basked publicly for so long in the warmth of their own piety.

We are due to witness about the most scientific and skillful example of dodging and ducking that has been seen since the last Progressive political scandal. Kuck may free himself of embarrassment. But the Progressive bosses will not be able to dodge the ultimate fact that they tried to put over something rotten.

For a long time to come the change of Mayors from Sebastian to Woodman will not be a pleasing topic of conversation in Progressive society.

In justice to Mr. Woodman, the new Mayor, it should be said that there seems to be no suspicion that he had anything to do with the Whiffen affair, or that his selection as Mayor was in any way involved in it or that his administration will be tainted with the odor. As far as The Times has knowledge, Woodman went in clean.

And it must be added that so far as the investigation has progressed, it has not brought out sufficient evidence upon which to hang anybody in particular. The public must await developments. The stench may develop into something pretty bad, and then again it may not. If Mr. Kuck has been wronged by the charges against him brought to the attention of the grand jury, he has his recourse. And as for Mr. Whiffen, he seems to have acted with a good deal of conservatism, to say the least.

A NEW ISSUE.

A new and a vital issue has been precipitated into the Presidential and Congressional campaign. It is whether the Gompers-Wilson-Adamson law, which arbitrarily and without investigation raised the wages of railroad train hands 25 per cent., shall be suffered to remain intact among the Federal statutes, or shall be repealed or modified.

Aside from the injustice of the law, and aside from the question as to its constitutionality, the one fact that should secure its repeal is that its enactment was obtained by the menace of four-tenths of 1 per cent. of the people of the United States, that unless it was passed they would paralyze the business, stop the food and milk supplies of the dwellers in cities and bring death to the occupants of the cradles of the land.

The action of Wilson and his Democratic Congress in yielding to this demand was cowardly and shameful and a disgrace to our country. It was unwarranted because it is not probable that the threatened strike would have lasted a week. Among the 1,600,000 railroad employees who do not belong to the railway train hands brotherhood, there would probably have been found enough men to keep the trains running until all the places vacated by the strikers could be filled from the millions of workers in the land who are not members of labor unions.

As a political move Mr. Wilson's surrender to the strikers will prove to be a mistake. He took his cowardly course on the assumption that it would bring to him the votes of the workingmen of the country. It will do nothing of the sort. The 1,600,000 railroad employees who are not members of the train hands brotherhoods will not relish an increase of pay which does not include them. The machinist, the station agent, the clerk and the track walker will say to himself, "Am I not as good a man as a brakeman, or a fireman, or a conductor, or a locomotive engineer? Have I not as good a right to an increase of compensation? Why should I be compelled to submit to an increase in the cost of my living in order to pay an unearned increase of compensation to the train hands?" And the millions of nonunion workmen in every branch of industry will say: "This increase of wages to a small percentage of the workers of the country, procured at the instance of a cringing, vote-seeking President and his cowardly satraps in Congress, is something we will not stand for, and, regardless of previous party affiliations, we will express our dissent at the polls in November by voting for the brave, outspoken loyal American, Charles Evans Hughes, and for a Congressional nominee who will pledge himself to vote to repeal the infamous Adamson law.

Our great, brave leader endeared himself to the manhood of the land when he said in his speech at York Harbor: "There is one thing which we must always maintain, and that is that there shall be no action on the part of our elected representatives, no action whatever taken under pressure and under dictation before we know what the facts are and what justice requires. I would rather stand with the principle and be defeated than yield one jot or tittle of it to get into office."

And again at Portsmouth, when he said: "It is not American government to have government under pressure. Whenever pressure is applied to any officer of the United States, or any of the States, he ought to stand like a rock and say: 'Here I stand until we substitute reason for force.'"

A Big Spender.

THE SHIP-PURCHASING FOLLY.

Our American registry of ocean merchantmen is 2,100,000 tons, which is two and one-half times as much as in 1913, and there are now under construction in our ship yards vessels of 1,350,000 tons. One of the effects of the Wilson Ship Purchasing Bill, which authorizes the present expenditure of $50,000,000, and promises a future expenditure of $762,000,000 to build and purchase ships to be run by the government in the ocean-carrying trade, in competition with privately-owned ships, may be to limit or put an end to further shipbuilding for private ownership.

The shipping bill is of no value whatever to the maritime interests of the country. It is destructive rather than constructive legislation. In so far as it is not harmfully mischievous it is harmlessly useless. Says the New York Nation: "It was introduced early in the war when fear of capture tied up every ship of a belligerent nation, and wheat and cotton growers were clamorous for means of marketing their huge crops. Within eight months exports were pouring out in unprecedented bulk, and the 'emergency' was gone. The bill was kept alive because the President had set his heart on it."

In all the maritime nations signs are evident of an expectation of the resumption of normal commercial relations at the end of the war. Practically all have forbidden the sale of vessels in their registry. In Germany the idle fleet has been kept ready to take the seas, and although shipbuilding has gone on steadily, and although shipbuilding in England last year reached only 650,000 tons, or about half that in America, the British are having ships built in Japan.

Before the war American capital was not encouraged to enter ocean commerce because the average dividends of British cargo steamers were less than 5½ per cent., and nine-tenths of our imports and exports were carried in foreign bottoms because the freight charge amounted to but 3 per cent. of the total value of cargoes.

The war changed these conditions and the termination of the war will change them again. With the defeat of Wilson and the restoration to power of a Republican Congress we shall be saved the expenditure of $762,000,000 of the public money that would eventually be required under the ship-purchasing law. The $50,000,000 now appropriated will doubtless be wasted, but the law will be repealed.

A WHIFFLING PRESIDENT.

President Wilson has again illustrated his tendency to bluff and back out, his complete control over his pie-hunting followers in Congress, and his subserviency to Great Britain.

Canada refused to sell bait or supplies to American fishing vessels unless their catch was brought to a Canadian port and disposed of, which action on her part although unfriendly was possibly within her rights. Senator Chamberlain retorted by procuring the passage of an amendment to the revenue bill, prohibiting the importation into the United States of frozen fish from the North Pacific unless coming from an American port. This was a fair and effective measure of retaliation. But President Wilson ordered it stricken from the revenue bill and the Conference Committee struck it out.

Great Britain, notwithstanding our protests, continues to search and censor and suppress our mails. Her action is a shameless defiance of international law. Senator Phelan procured the passage of an amendment to the revenue law to debar citizens of belligerent countries from the use of the mails, cables and telegraphs in this country, if American citizens are discriminated against by the government of such belligerents. And again the boss in the White House ordered this provision to be stricken out, and the Conference Committee of Congress struck it out.

Senator Chamberlain did not mince words in commenting on the situation. He said: "Talk about lobbies being driven from the Capitol! Secretary Lansing, Secretary Redfield and Secretary McAdoo had all recommended these recommendations in the very language in which they were written. And yet we find toryism effective in the American Congress to destroy American industry."

If the American people shall not in November next with a mighty majority vote to place a REAL, RED-BLOODED MAN in the White House in the place of its present occupant they will deserve contempt. Even as a Democrat from whom not much was to be expected Woodrow Wilson is a failure. There was more of statesmanship and more of Americanism in one of Grover Cleveland's old neckties than in the entire body and soul of Woodrow Wilson.

It may be necessary to allow a lot of overtime in enforcing the eight-hour law.

ACT OF CONGRESS BLOW TO LABOR.

A Blow to Labor.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat:] It is a coincidence that the greatest blow ever struck at organized labor fell on the threshold of the day devoted to the honor of labor. For they who look beyond the glamour of the circumstances of the moment can see that the action of Congress in the compulsory passage of the eight-hour bill was against and not for the interests of labor. They can see that labor is harmed and not helped by a cowed Congress and a humiliated nation. The interests of labor are essentially the interests of the whole people.

The cowardly and unparalleled act of Congress in the passage of the eight-hour bill without investigation or deliberation is an abject surrender of the paramount rights of sovereignty. If any organization, it matters not what its character, can for its own interest compel the Congress of the United States to bend its knees and pass laws for the benefit of that interest, without consideration of the merits of its legislation, then the end of free and independent government in the United States is near.

A Shameful Surrender.

[Boston Transcript:] Properly to characterize the surrender of Congress to the rawest portion of the demand of the railroad brotherhoods, it is necessary to borrow the language of that ardent supporter of Mr. Wilson's re-election, the New York Times. The bill which Congress is apparently about to pass is described by the Times as "a project of law compelling the railroads to increase the wages of their employees who are members of the brotherhoods." The bill, the Times truly tells us, "puts upon the country an intolerable humiliation; it reduces 100,000,000 people to a condition of vassalage—no longer permitted to make laws that freely express their will." The people are "held up as the highwayman's victim is held up, and forced to instant compliance with the terms imposed upon them by the leaders of organizations comprising only 400,000" workers. It is an outrage, says the Times, which, if it can be put upon the people, proves that we have "lost our republican form of government."

A Very Sour Lemon.

[Worcester Telegram:] The railroad men will find that President Wilson has handed them the sourest lemon ever. It is Prof. Wilson law. There is not a court in the land that could or would enforce it. It is not law. It represents the vote of Congress upon a subject expressly closed to it by the Constitution. When the railroad men discover how they have been bunkoed by the President there will be one wild day.

The Issue.

[Minneapolis Journal:] It is not the eight-hour law that need trouble the American people. That can be paid for in money.

But what need trouble the American people is that it has been possible for a small part of them to take the United States by the throat, and, under threat against the very life of the nation, secure an eight-hour law against the railroads without any examination of the merits of the question.

That procedure is not American, and it will come back to trouble organized labor in the future—not because of the law, but because of the unpatriotic method used in securing it.

Lacked Courage.

[New York Journal of Commerce:] If the President of the United States had taken a firm stand on the side of lawful methods and due regard for the rights of all and the interests of the public, we feel sure that he would have had the support of the country. It would have required courage, perhaps, but the people of the country admire courage. It would have required a sense of justice, but the people love justice. But what has the President done? Either from lack of a proper spirit or from fear of political consequences in a campaign in which his re-election is at stake, he has prejudged the case by assuming that the chief demand of the union autocrats should be granted at once, and proposing legislation, one feature of which is the immediate enforcement of that demand, regardless of its effect, except for the benefit sought by one side at a serious cost to the other. Then he used all the influence at his command to push this through Congress regardless of the convictions of its individual members.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

HUGHES IN COLORADO.

The farmers raise so many crops
the harvest season never stops.
They're always reaping oats or hay,
or putting winter wheat away;
alfalfa helps to pay their debts,
and keeps the world in cigarettes,
and they have corn and Johnson grass, and sorghum, rape and garden sass.
So, be the weather dry or wet, some crop will be a good, safe bet. The beans may shrivel in the heat, but there'll be divers kinds of wheat;
the oats may languish in the rain,
but there'll be lots of other grain.
The cockleburs may pine away, but there'll be stacks of luscious hay.
The western farmers used to raise but little else than yellow maize, and if a crop they chanced to lose, in wintertime they ate their shoes. Crop failure meant a famine then; the fields were full of hungry men. But now the corn may die the death, may wither in the hot wind's breath, and still the farmers tool their cars, and smoke the crimson-band cigars, and take to town the shining bones, and buy a peck of precious stones.

AEROPLANES FOR MAIL AND PASSENGERS.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY ALBERTO SANTOS-DUMONT,
Honorary President of the Pan-American Aeronautic Federation.

TEN years ago I piloted my very primitive aeroplane for a few seconds, covering a distance of less than fifty meters, and the fact was reported all over the world as a tremendous achievement. Today I am traveling through South America making plans to establish aeroplane lines between different points to solve difficult problems of transportation which restrict the development of the resources of South America.

The development in aeronautics in the past four years, but particularly in the past two years, has been tremendous.

A few decades ago the world was astonished by the development of the railroad in North America, the ramification of lines uniting distant cities and facilitating travel, communication and commerce. South America only needs fast transportation to develop its enormous natural resources—without fast transportation these resources remain undeveloped. To build railroads costs enormous sums, at times over $100,000 per mile, and it takes years. Railroads are being built slowly because there is not the promise of continuous traffic which is needed to make the railroad a paying proposition. Therefore the building of railroads, while fast considering the size of the population of the South American countries, has been comparatively slow.

The aircraft, particularly the large and powerful aeroplanes that are being built and will be built in the coming few years, bring the opportunity for the South American states to utilize the greatest invention of modern times in doing for them what the railroad did for the United States. Very soon we will see thousands of big aeroplanes operating over the most difficult and inaccessible regions of South America, uniting cities, fostering business and bringing civilization to isolated communities.

An air line can be operated between two points 100 miles apart, on short notice, for what it would cost to build a single mile of railroad.

To those in South America who have been forced to spend one week, and at times longer, to travel over a distance of 100 miles, the very thought of covering the same distance in 100 minutes seems incredible. And yet it is at hand. In some cases, owing to the fact that the passengers will not have to pay for their meals and sleeping quarters for a week during their journey, and will not lose days of time, the air line will actually be much more economic than the present methods of transportation; hence, the air line promises to be popular.

South America will adopt the aircraft as a method of transportation in the same way that it adopted the wireless as the method of intercommunication. The establishing of wireless stations proved to be much cheaper than establishing telegraph lines in the South American countries.

The aeroplanes needed for aerial transportation can be constructed now; it is only a question of applying them—and the plans for the application may take several months. But when a start is made the development will be swift and the results will be such as we can hardly foresee. Difficult problems of transportation will be solved and the aircraft will become an important sociologic factor. It will knit the states of the western hemisphere into an integrally united, co-operating and friendly combination, allied for their well-being in sport, trade and commerce, as well as for strength in time of possible war.

A PESSIMIST.

[Detroit Free Press:] A pessimist is a son of the man who doesn't believe there was any such thing as electricity.

He is an offspring of the man who was sure that the horseless carriage would never come, and a nephew of the man who was willing to bet money that men would never fly.

A pessimist is a direct descendant of the man who was sure that wireless telegraphy was a fool's dream, and a submarine merely the creation of a fiction writer's brain.

The pessimist's ancestry scoffed at the telephone, the type-setting machine, the twenty-story building, anaesthetics and every forward step the optimists have taken for the betterment of human life.

If the pessimists of the past had been right, men would still be living in caves and trying to get their meals with clubs and flint arrows. And evidently they died without publicly confessing their mistakes, for their pessimistic children continue to prophesy dismally that everything that is surely going to be cannot possibly come to pass. They seem to be born with the habit and cannot get over it.

Receipts of Panama Canal.

[Commerce Reports:] Including the earnings of tolls for the month of July, 1916, amounting to $460,123, the tolls collected on traffic passing through the Panama Canal from the beginning of the towing of laden barges between the terminal ports in May, 1914, have amounted to $7,217,956. According to the August 16 issue of the Canal Record, the collections from vessels in the coastwise trade of the United States formed $1,923,122 of this total.

"And if he does?"

ANOTHER FIGHT FOR PASADENA.

City Manager Petition has Signers Enough.

Plan is Sidetrack Present City Government.

Some Doubt is Felt as to the New Strength.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 9.—The movement to change the present commission form of government to a city manager plan, regarded lightly at first by the present occupants of the City Hall, turns out to be a serious proposition. Yesterday more than the required number of signatures to petitions asking for the necessary change in the city charter were filed with the City Commission.

The petitions contain 3476 signatures, of which 111 are of doubtful legality, according to the statement of City Clerk Heman Dyer. The petitions were referred to him for verification of the signatures, but he has not yet checked all the names. The number of signatures required on the basis of a total vote of 14,373 at the last general election is 4141.

Mr. Dyer questions the legality of some of the signatures because he was unable to find on any of the petitions the name of one man who circulated several copies and swore to them as containing the names of qualified electors only. Each person circulating such a petition is required to be a qualified elector, residing within the city, and is required to take oath before a notary public as to the work accomplished and the legality of the signatures.

Most of the petitions were sworn to by the circulators before William Easterbrook as notary public and one of the men active in circulating the petitions. The members of the Commission did not comment on the petitions further than to call attention to the fact that, contrary to the usual custom, the measure proposes to have all of the five directors take office at the same time and serve equal terms.

TWO PRINCIPALS.

The Board of Education will introduce an innovation this fall by having two principals preside over two schools each. W. H. Holland will be principal of both the Wilson and Franklin schools, and Rufus Mead will be head of the Lincoln and Roosevelt schools.

Kate E. Christie, former principal of the Franklin, and E. H. Carter, former head of the Roosevelt, will not be employed by the board the coming school year. These will be some of the other changes that will be noted when school opens on the 18th inst.

The opening of a new school in the Arroyo Seco, the establishment of an intermediate school in the John Muir Building, the elimination of the eighth grade from the Longfellow school, and the opening of a new school building in West Altadena. The new school which will be opened in the Arroyo on Grand avenue, two blocks south of California street, will be in a one-room building for the accommodation of pupils of the first and second grades, and possibly the third also. The teacher will be Miss Lavina Wells.

CITY BRIEFS.

According to the monthly report issued by Miss Nellie M. Russ, city librarian, the Pasadena main library loaned 19,564 volumes in circulation last month over August, 1915. The daily average circulation was 754 volumes, and the circulation for home use during the month was 20,413. Of this, fiction formed the greater part, there being 912 books of this classification.

The news reached Pasadena yesterday that Harlan Christie and Thad Jones of this city won special honors in the target practice of the Pacific naval recruits from the Southwest, held at the rifle range of the Marine Corps on North Island near San Diego. Christy and Jones, with E. Crawford May and other Pasadena young men, left on the practice cruise, August 15. Christie's score was 49 out of 50 at 200 yards and 42 out of 50 at 500 yards. At 500 yards Jones was second with a score of 41.

FAKE "SPOONING" CATCHER ARRESTED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SEAL BEACH, Sept. 7.—Despite the fact that in Santa Ana the first part of the week Charles E. Williams of Long Beach was bound over to the Superior Court on a charge of extorting money from "spooning" couples on the sands of Seal Beach, it developed here yesterday that another young man giving his name as George Bowen expected to get "hush" money from spooners whom he frightened with a fake arrest.

His victims were George Harrison and his fiancee, Miss Mabel Gordon of Long Beach. They were sitting on the beach in the moonlight, when Bowen approached and charged them with improper actions. He placed them under arrest, using an old-style Los Angeles deputy sheriff badge as his authority. Bowen is alleged to have offered to let them go for $10. Harrison paid rather than submit his fiancee to further indignities. Harrison jumped into the fight and Bowen was getting the worst of it when City Marshal Nauschwanger arrived and subdued the alleged extorter. He was taken to Santa Ana and booked on a charge of extortion. With the arrest of Williams and Bowen the Marshal believes he has cleaned up the offenders against the peace and quiet of happy lovers in Seal Beach and Long Beach.

GLENDALE TO HAVE FEDERAL RESERVE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, Sept. 7.—Thirty-five members of the Glendale contingent of the home guards are making determined efforts to increase their number to seventy in order to become a part of the Federal Reserve of the Coast Artillery.

The company was formed three months ago during the most serious part of the trouble with Mexico by Capt. Edward Johnson.

The company has shown such good form and spirit that Maj. B. Light of the Federal Reserve wished to make them a part of that body. In order to do this it is necessary that seventy men volunteer and those already in the company are making an energetic canvass of Glendale, Tropico, Burbank and Eagle Rock to fill the vacancies.

The officer of the company are: Edward Johnson, captain; D. W. Nicoles, first lieutenant; Joseph Griffin, second lieutenant.

Protesting that assessments to open up Seventh street from the Church of the Holy Family to Adams street were too high, five property owners came before the Council last night and asked that the work of opening up the street be abandoned. The Council postponed action on the matter until the next meeting.

The members of the Country Press Club and secretaries of the chambers of several Southern California towns were the guests of A. T. Cowan at the Glendale Sanatorium last night. Forty-five guests were present. Speeches were made by A. T. Cowan, J. Randall, president of the County Press Club, and Dr. Jessie Russell of Glendale.

Dr. Jessie Russell of No. 542 North Maryland avenue, has been signally honored by being invited to take the work of organization in New Mexico for the Republican party.

Dr. Russell is prominent in civic affairs and club work in Glendale, and was unanimously decided upon by a committee appointed at the State convention.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Julia Schmidt, wife of a Farmersville rancher, has been remanded to the County Jail in default of a fine of $200 imposed upon her following her plea of guilty to a charge of illegal selling of liquor. Mrs. Schmidt sold beer, according to the officers, to Sheriff Smith, who was more or less disguised as a tramp. She is also alleged to have sold similar beverages to Sheriff Smith's deputies. Mrs. Schmidt was very philosophical when taken to the County Jail and there confronted with the evidence and said calmly: "The best of us make mistakes."

Avoiding Another Car They Crash into Wagon.

Accident Takes Place Near City of Norwalk.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ARTESIA, Sept. 8.—Two dying and two others painfully injured is the toll of an automobile accident which took place near Norwalk, a few miles from here, this evening when Peter Bourdett, ranch foreman, ran into a sugar-beet wagon with his automobile.

Bourdett took his wife and four children out for an automobile ride this afternoon and was driving along at a reasonable speed when he was confronted with the possibility of colliding with a woman who was driving a car in the opposite direction. He turned sharply to one side, only to run into a sugar-beet wagon. The father and son were extricated from the wreck with their skulls fractured. Two others were very painfully hurt, while the mother escaped. All were taken to the hospital here.

Bourdett is assistant foreman of the Bixby ranch. Attending physicians predict the death of father and son by morning.

MANAGER CHARGED WITH AIM TO KILL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MENTONE, Sept. 8.—Emmet Givens, the manager of the Pacific Light and Power Company's power plant at the mouth of Santa Ana Canyon, near here, was bound over to the Circuit Court by Justice P. G. McIver after his hearing on a charge of assault with intent to kill upon T. E. Weardon of Redlands with a deadly weapon. The charge was changed after a day spent in the preliminary examination.

Weardon was formerly employed at the power plant. When he left he did not take with him two rifles and a hunting knife. Last Sunday he returned and asked for them. Givens said that he had sold one of the guns and offered to give Weardon a check for $5. Weardon agreed to this.

Weardon then asked Givens why he sold the gun. Givens replied that everyone said that Weardon would not come back. "They said lots of things they owe me an apology for," said Weardon. "I guess you are throwing that at me," said Givens, and he jumped up and went into the house, returning with a gun. Mrs. Givens interfered, but he pushed her aside, according to the testimony, and struck Weardon. Weardon has a broken right arm and several bruised ribs as the result of the blow with the gun.

JUSTICE JAILS AUTOIST DESPITE TEARFUL PLEA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 8.—Justice Cox has sent another motorist to jail. Pleading guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated William M. Rodgers, foreman of the Eagle Sheet Metal Works of San Diego, was given a sentence of ten days in jail. Rodgers pleaded with Justice Cox not to send him to jail.

"It will kill my poor, old mother," said Rodgers. "She is 73 years old. I was never arrested before, and this will break her heart."

"I am mighty sorry for your mother," said Cox, "but if I let you off, the next automobile man who gets into trouble will want to get off, too."

Rodgers was driving toward Los Angeles when he ran a machine, driven by Fred Taylor of Santa Ana, off the road. A few rods further on he smashed into the side of a machine driven by J. W. Wetstein of No. 1605 E street, San Diego, and all but upset Wetstein's machine.

Rodgers was arrested several blocks further on by Deputy Sheriffs Maxwell and Eells, who had seen the accident. A woman who was with Rodgers protested. A crowd gathered. A passing automobile stopped and made inquiry. F. L. Moon of Coronado, who on Monday completed serving a ten-day sentence given him by Justice Cox for speeding sixty miles an hour, was the one making inquiry. When he found that an automobilist had been arrested he said:

"This is no place for me, so I am going to get out of here."

Moon was on his way home from Los Angeles.

SALES OF SHARES AGAIN OVER MILLION MARK.

Professional Character of Trading in Evidence, with Half-dozen Issues Supplying Fifty Per Cent. of the Turnover—Reading is Leader in Movement—New Copper Record.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Dealings in stocks again were well over the million mark today, but the professional character of the trading was in keeping with recent conditions, a half-dozen issues supplying 50 per cent of the turnover. Foremost among those issues was Reading, which registered an extreme gain of 3¾ points, at 112¾, its best price of the current year. Mercantile Marines and other shipping shares were again in speculative favor, the preferred rising 4¾ points, with 2¾ for the common, while Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies made a new maximum on the rise of 5¼ to 78¾, with 2¾ for United Fruit. Inspiration Copper was new to the new record of 65¾ on its gain of 2¾ points, with consistent strength in other metals, notably American Smelting. United States Steel was under pressure, but yielded only a fraction at most, and closed at a net gain of ¼ point. Other industrials of the same class were temporarily higher by 1 to 2 points. The steel tonnage figures for August, to be issued tomorrow, are expected to show an increase in unfilled orders as against the small decrease of the previous month. Equipments and additions played an unimportant part in the day's operations, and motor and allied shares were again irregular. Their course was offset, however, by further gains in such specialties as International Paper, common and preferred, Union Bag and Paper preferred, and the tobaccos. Recessions of 1 to 2 points in the general list followed the publication of the government crop report disclosing serious impairment of corn and spring wheat. Total sales of stocks amounted to 1,080,000 shares. Initial trading in "United Kingdom" 5-per cent. notes at or near 99 featured the steady bond market. Total sales of bonds, par value, were $3,170,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BIG JIM SOARS ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

MINING LEADER ADVANCES EIGHT POINTS.

Public Continues to Buy Market Favorite at Higher Prices—Union Oil Shows Marked Improvement. Miscellaneous Oatman List Absorbs Remainder of Trading.

Big Jim furnished the thrills on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday when the quotation for the mining favorite advanced a total of 8 points during the day, closing in heavy demand at 1.23. Over 18,000 shares changed hands, and the way buyers went after the stock there seems no doubt but that the quotation will go to 1.50 before many more days. Buying orders continue to pour in from the East, and the stock was very active on the New York curb all day Friday. Development work on the property of the Big Jim continues at a great pace, and the work of blocking out ore is progressing at a more rapid rate than ever before. As the amount of ore blocked out grows larger the enhancement to the value of the mine will no doubt be followed by increasing higher quotations for the stock. Union Oil was also a feature, and in the afternoon there was a strong call for the issue at 85.00, some 175 shares selling at that price. This is another stock that seems due for a continued higher market, and will bear watching. The miscellaneous Oatman list absorbed the remainder of the trading yesterday, and prices on the whole were very encouraging. Lucky Boy advanced to 13, and Ivanhoe sold as high as .06¾. Carter was transferred in the last hours of the session at .07, and there was a better inquiry for the stock than for several days.

Today being a legal holiday, there will be no meeting of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Business Page: Citrus Fruits, Butter and Eggs—Current Trade—Local Produce Market.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The Associated Warehouse report for September 1 showed that on that date there were 83,151,000 pounds of butter and 3,382,000 cases of eggs on hand in the forty odd storage houses of the organization. Comparing these figures with those for the same date in 1915 it is found that there is a gain in the case of butter of 367,000 pounds, but that in the case of eggs there is a loss of 428,400 cases. These losses were not nearly as favorable as had been anticipated by the trade and bear out the stringency of the egg supplies all over the country. Some egg authorities claim that the amount of eggs in storage today is only 55 per cent. less than at this time last year, and as the consumption among the laboring classes is said to have increased tremendously during the last six months, storages are expected to bring extremely high prices this winter.

Jobbing apples were cut yesterday by several of the largest fruit dealers, the range of values now for fancy from 75 to 90 cents a box. Other lines are unchanged in price, although a downward movement is expected within another week or ten days as the fall varieties begin to appear on the market in greater quantities. Bartlett pears are bringing positive figures, and nothing in the way of a good pear can now be purchased for less than 5 cents a pound, packed boxes are selling for $2.60 a basket. Berries were in better supply yesterday, when strawberries sold at 7 cents per basket. Bananas are the only line of importance on the list that are lower, but next week values are liable to be boosted to 5 cents a pound. It is the fact that the crop all over the world was small this year, shipments of which are curtailed their consignments to this market more than double, fearing the railroad strike. So far Los Angeles practically has had all of the tropical fruit, and is the only section at present strength in the banana market.

Eggs jumped up another cent on the Produce Exchange Friday morning, some 10 cases changed hands at quite a dress. Butter was firm. There were 100 cases of eggs, 2000 pounds of butter, 5400 pounds of cheese, 2100 sacks of potatoes, 152 boxes of beans, 41 sacks of sweet potatoes, 10 boxes of apples, 3700 boxes and crates of tomatoes. The Produce Exchanges will not hold a session today, in honor of Admission Day.

Today.

TO CELEBRATE ADMISSION DAY.

Carnival Attracts Crowds to San Diego Exposition.

Irish to Enjoy Gaelic Sports at Selig Zoo.

Moonlight Fete Conducted by Famous Singer.

All of California is celebrating Admission Day and everywhere there are picnics, parties, dances, receptions, entertainments of all kinds. All through the Southland picnics will be held today and festivity is the order. From as far north as Bakersfield residents of Southern California will journey to San Diego to hold high carnival, for there the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West will reign until midnight tonight.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS.

Every branch of the Native Sons and Daughters in the State has worked to make the day the biggest of its kind. The days when gallant and picturesque senors serenaded the beauties of their time will be depicted, as will the part of the mission fathers in the State's history. The programme at San Diego will begin at 10 o'clock with a parade through the city to the exposition. Special trains left Los Angeles last night for the southern city and other specials will leave early this morning.

The Native Sons have requested that all business houses observe a full holiday and remain closed, the intention being to cause a wider observance of the day. The local branch of the International Sales Managers' Association will attend the celebration at the exposition in a body. The San Francisco branch will also be present.

MOONLIGHT FETE.

A moonlight fete will be given by Ellen Beach Yaw in the gardens of B. F. Thorpe, Lark Ellen and Cypress boulevards, Covina, this evening. The famous singer will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cavanah, Josephine Williams, Patsein Minshaw, Los Angeles ladies' quartette, Mrs. Ralph Oliver, Annie Meilor, Grace Grubb, Isabelle Keep, Marie Webster, Lester Selb, Violet Tucker, Gladys McConville and Edith St. Clair. Miss Yaw herself will be heard in her scene from Hamlet. The Thorpe gardens are noted for the clear echo and Miss Yaw will repeat the "Echo Song," which was greatly appreciated last year.

IRISH CELEBRATION.

The Irish will celebrate California's birthday with a big picnic today at Selig Zoo Park, under the auspices of the Friends of Irish Freedom. Features of the programme will be Gaelic games, dances and music. The motto for the day will be "Cead Mile Failthe," and will be high upon a big arch at the entrance of the park.

The programme includes the raising of an American and an Irish flag on two specially-erected flagpoles, tugs-of-war between teams representing Ulster, Munster, Leinster and Connaught, the singing of Irish songs and exhibitions of physical prowess by individual contestants and by teams. A feature will be special Gaelic sports. The address of the day will be delivered by Joseph Scott. A band concert will continue throughout the day.

The North Main-street Improvement Association will hold its first annual picnic at Eastlake Park today in honor of the admission of California to the Union. Addresses will be delivered by Judge Frank R. Willis, chairman of the day, and by H. S. McCallum, president of the Federated Improvement Association. Swimming, boat races and other sports are included on the programme.

POSTOFFICE HOLIDAY.

The Federal government has recognized today as a holiday and declared the usual short hours. There will be only one delivery of mail in the residence section of the city and but two in the business portion. The general delivery department of the postoffice will close at 12 o'clock noon and the parcel post division at 7 o'clock tonight. The usual deliveries will be made in the rural districts.

Kentucky will celebrate the occasion by holding its annual picnic today. The event will occupy the afternoon and evening at Sycamore Grove. A basket dinner will be served at 5 o'clock. Coffee will be served free.

The Pasa. (Ill.) Society will conduct a picnic all day at Long Beach. There will be a programme of addresses and music. The affair will be held in the Auditorium.

CHURCH PICNICS.

The Church of the People holds its annual picnic and camp fire this afternoon and evening at Sycamore Grove. A programme of games and amusements is provided for this afternoon for the young people, and there will be discussions of popular subjects for the older people. After dinner in the park there will be a camp fire in the Arroyo Seco. The singing will be by a glee club in charge of Walter Hastings Olney and Gentry Wickiser-Hiett. There will be stories and readings by Mrs. Lida Hood Talbot, Miss Mary Talbot, Mrs. Hiett-Wickiser, Mrs. Frances Wallis and Mrs. Rive D. Weeks. The affair is in charge of Reynold E. Blight and Mrs. Maud Fletcher Gallagher.

The annual picnic of the First United Brethren Bible school will be held today at Exposition Park. Those who go to the church, on Seventeenth street, near Figueroa, by 9:30 o'clock this morning will be taken to the park in automobiles.

Wrong Car.

TRAIN BANDITS MISS BEST BET.

OVERLOOK RICH BOOTY WHILE BLOWING SAFE.

Description of Only One of Six Secured by Railway Postal Clerks Who Made a Report to Inspector Yesterday—Hold-up Occurred in Loneliest Spot on Line.

R. M. Collier and R. A. Baker, clerks in the railway service, who were on duty on Southern Pacific train No. 2 out of Apache when the hold-up occurred last Wednesday, made a complete report of the affair to Postoffice Inspector Charles S. Ranger yesterday.

But one of the six men engaged in the foray (five entering the mail car and the sixth holding the horses) afforded an opportunity for description. He is between 30 and 35 years of age, five feet eight inches high and weighs about 160 pounds. He has medium complexion, smooth face, dark clothes and hat.

The only property secured by the robbers was two registered letters from Bisbee and Kirksville, Mo., the value of which is unknown. The robbers blew open the safe after the lights had been extinguished in the car occupied by Messrs. Collier and Baker, but overlooked the car in the rear that contained a safe filled with money and valuables. The bandits confined their efforts to the forward car, Mr. Baker putting out the lamps at the demand of one of the robbers, who held a revolver at his head.

A package of money from the First National Bank of El Paso to Cananea, consigned to a mining company or a bank, the witnesses are not sure which, was overlooked by the robbers. Dynamite was used to blow open the safe in the dark car and so powerful was the explosive that several large packages of magazines in the mail bags were blow to pieces.

The postoffice clerks declare that so far as they were able to observe the men spoke good English and were evidently from Mexico. The spot where the hold-up occurred is one of the most forbidding on the line in that part of Arizona and a choice location for wholesale robbery. But the thieves missed the opportunity when they neglected to enter the dark car that stood right next to the looted car. They evidently thought it an empty one.

TRIAL POSTPONED.

Case of Violation of Neutrality Laws Put Over to November.

Trial of the case of the government against B. Aviles and others was postponed until November 14 yesterday by Judge Edward E. Cushing, following the introduction of evidence showing the illness of Harry Chandler and Gen. R. J. Villoen, who are among the defendants.

Judge Cushman said that, in his opinion, the request for postponement was reasonable. It was agreed that if the physical condition of the defendants should be such that the trial cannot be proceeded with on the date set, notice is to be given to the government by November 1.

DAMAGE AWARD

The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of the Superior Court of San Diego county, in a judgment for $15,000 returned in favor of William Fahey, in his action against the Panama-California Exposition of San Diego, on account of injuries received by Fahey while engaged as a workman on what is known as the Cabrillo bridge, within the exposition grounds.

DE ZELLE'S SECOND TRIAL.

Assistant United States District Attorney Clyde R. Moody said yesterday that the second trial of Edward de Zelle, charged with having counterfeiting tools in his possession, would take place as soon as a place can be secured on the criminal calendar.

Early to Work.

SET CLOCK AHEAD ONE HOUR FOR PROSPERITY.

THE hundreds of workers of the campaign organization of the California Prosperity League will start to work one hour earlier, beginning Monday morning.

The advisory board yesterday decided, for the organization, to set the clock one hour ahead to conserve the daylight hours, thus permitting the workers to finish their tasks one hour earlier in the evening and giving full daylight for the duties to be performed.

If the clocks are set ahead one hour and the people arise when the alarm goes off at 7 o'clock as formerly, they are in reality getting up one hour earlier.

This method of advancing the clock is done so as not to confuse the existing schedules in all lines of business and in official records. Schedule time can only be changed by action of the Legislature or Congress and in all official matters the old time will be observed, but in performing of duties the new will be followed.

The 134,000 members of the California Prosperity League will abide by this decision of the advisory board in so far as their individual circumstances permit. None of the members, excepting those who are employed by the league are required to abide by the change, but they are advised to do so in their own homes as the officers believe if the scheme is good for the general work of the organization it would also be advantageous to individual members.

The early morning hours are conceded to be best adapted for the interests of brain and muscular work. The early hours are faithfully observed on the farms, but in the cities the people have begun tardier and tardier until most business men do not reach their offices before 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning. Thus they are required to work late in the afternoon.

The waning daylight must be reinforced by electric light and the business man finds that when he gets home the day has in reality passed. Now, if he will observe the new hours, he will be able to get home to do a little gardening or sprinkling of the lawn.

SENTENCES DEFERRED.

In Judge Willis's court yesterday David Finnegan, convicted of forgery, made an application for probation. It was set for the 26th inst. C. V. Keys pleaded guilty of passing a check when he had no funds to meet it, and the court will dispose of the matter of probation and sentence the 26th inst. Roy N. Matson pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and his petition for probation will be heard the 25th inst.

PARENTS BATTLE FOR DAUGHTER.

AFTER SEPARATION CHILD IS WANTED BY BOTH.

When Mother Brings Girl from Santa Barbara Father Charges Her with Attempt to Kidnap, but Court Issues Temporary Restraining Order Against Him.

Since Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hensey of Santa Barbara separated a year ago last July there has been a battle for the possession of their daughter, who is 3 years old. Last week Mrs. Hensey, who has been living in Los Angeles, went to Santa Barbara and brought back the girl. Mr. Hensey informed the police here that his wife was attempting to kidnap his daughter, and she was met on her arrival here Thursday night.

Yesterday Attorney Musgrove, counsel for Mrs. Hensey, obtained an order from Presiding Judge Houser restraining Mr. Hensey from taking the girl from Mrs. Hensey by force. He is directed to appear before Judge Reeve on the 18th inst. to show cause why Mrs. Hensey should not have the permanent custody of the baby. The Henseys were married March 10, 1910.

MAY NOT SELL STOCK.
RESTRAINING ORDER.

P. E. Daniels, owner and president of the Channel Peak Mining Company, obtained an injunction from Judge McCormick yesterday restraining W. J. Martin, superintendent of the mines in Plumas county in 1914, from disposing of a stock certificate calling for 23,000 shares of stock of the corporation. The sale of this stock was set for yesterday, but an order was obtained from Acting Presiding Judge Wellborn holding it up.

Mr. Daniels, who brought suit against Mr. Martin to recover the stock, claims that he made a settlement with the superintendent in mistake. Mr. Martin took out his pay as superintendent in stock, but Mr. Daniels alleges that he found the claims submitted by him erroneous.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT
BY STOCKHOLDERS.

A motion for a new trial in the suit of W. S. Shoemaker against A. A. Eckstrom and others, involving stockholders' liability, was taken under advisement by Judge McCormick yesterday. The judgment in this case was in favor of Mr. Shoemaker for $346.33. He sought to recover a balance due on promissory notes covering an indebtedness which had been assumed by a corporation and assigned to him.

The defendant stockholders, in moving for a new trial, held that more stock was outstanding than the judgment allowed for, which would reduce the proportion the defendant stockholders were assessed by the court. It was also held that the stock held by Edwin G. Voight and Henry Neustadt had been cancelled before the indebtedness was incurred.

HELD TO ANSWER.

The preliminary hearing of E. J. Gregory, charged with the murder of John Brennan at Riley's garage, No. 432 South Flower street, as the result of a fist fight, ended yesterday in Justice Brown holding him to answer to the Superior Court. Mr. Brennan was shot in the back, and the evidence tended to show that he had started away from Mr. Gregory when the latter fired. Mr. Gregory says he shot in self-defense.

IN AND OUT ABOUT THE COURTS.

NO WILL FOUND. Because no will could be found, William C. de Jane filed a petition for letters of administration yesterday on the $25,000 estate of his mother, Mary J. de Jane, who died July 2 last. The estate includes cash and real property. Among the latter are four lots in the St. Vincent College tract, valued at $16,000. William C. de Jane is the sole heir.

INCORPORATIONS. The Always Ready Ironing Board Company, incorporators C. E. Towner, C. C. Towner, William E. Magarrell, D. B. Carroll and A. C. Towner, capital stock $10,000, subscribed $10,000.

THROW THE HARPOON INTO LOAN SHARKS.

CITY EMPLOYEES ORDERED NOT TO BORROW MONEY.

Immediate Dismissal Penalty for Assigning Salary Warrants—Low Fire Loss During Week Reported by Chief—Boyle Heights Property to be Condemned.

Heads of departments under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works were yesterday formally ordered to notify all employees that the assignment of salary warrants to loan sharks will be cause for immediate dismissal. The rule will be effective October 15.

President Handley of the board stated that an investigation shows that more employees who are paid by the week than by the month have been in the habit of making such assignments.

A LOW RECORD.
FIRE LOSS SMALL.

One of the lowest fire records for a week was reported to the Fire Commission by Chief Eley yesterday when he stated that the loss for the seven days ended at midnight, September 7, was only $1050.

The most damaging fire during that time was one in a dwelling-house at No. 1627 Brooklyn avenue and the Chief's laconic report on the cause reads, "boy and candle." The loss was $450.

The total number of alarms was twenty-five, of which two were false. In twelve cases there was no damage. There were five grass fires. In six cases damage was done.

City Hall Notes.

An ordinance is to be prepared for the condemnation of property in the vicinity of Stephenson avenue, Mott street, Hollenbeck avenue and Pickett street for park and playground purposes.

The City Council has passed a resolution asking the Board of Public Works to allow street laborers and city teamsters to work on all legal holidays except Labor Day.

The repairs to the outfall sewer pier at Hyperion will be done by force account. The Council yesterday recommended that the Board of Public Works reject the bids of $2300 and $2525 received. It is estimated the city can do the work for $1900. Additional piles are to be put in to strengthen the outer 130 feet and the drop-pipe at the end of the sewer is to be renewed.

SELLS PROPERTY.

Beach Town Water Companies Make Big Financial Deals.

The Railroad Commission has issued an order authorizing the City Water Company of Ocean Park to sell to the city of Santa Monica its property in Santa Monica for $82,642.03. Santa Monica is authorized to sell to the City Water Company of Ocean Park the distributing system and going business of the Ocean Park Water Company in Venice for $6786.42. The Railroad Commission also fixes $5000 as the amount to be deducted from the $25,000 severance damages ordered to be paid by Santa Monica to the City Water Company for the taking of property of the company in Santa Monica. This reduction is made because of the sale of the Venice system to the company.

FORECAST OF MAINE.

National Issues in the Campaign.

Tuesday's Winds may Waft Along the First Strains of November Result.

Destination of the Released Progressive Vote Seems to be the Key.

[BY A. P. LEASED WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 9.—Political conditions have created a widespread interest in the general election in Maine, the earliest to be held in the country and always regarded by politicians as a possible forecast of the national vote for President. The voters will go to the polls on Tuesday next to ballot for two United States Senators, four members of Congress, Governor, State auditor and members of the Legislature. In addition they will decide by referendum whether to enforce the bills passed by the Legislature to limit the labor of women and children to fifty-four hours a week and to provide for State aid in the building of bridges.

THE KEY.

The destination of the Progressive party vote, released by the decision of the party leaders not to maintain a separate ticket, is the key to the situation. Although the Republicans are confident that practically all of the Progressives will return to their former affiliation, the Democrats dispute the contention and have made vigorous efforts to attract the Progressives. In the last Presidential year the Progressives cast 48,493 votes for Roosevelt, while Taft received 26,848 and Wilson carried the State with 51,113. In the State campaign for 1914 the Democrats again were victorious electing Oakland C. Curtis as Governor with a vote of 66,076 to 55,887 for the Republican candidate and 18,326 for the Progressive nominee. The Republicans in each year elected three
